INTRODUCTION.

To the Descendants of Nathaniel Ely:

Previous to the year 1877 little had been done in the compilation of a genealogy of any portion of the Ely family in the United States, and in places where there were many of the name there were families residing near each other who had no knowledge of their relationship.

The name was common in both Massachusetts and Connecticut, and from those States emigrants had gone forth and found homes in other States and Territories until representatives were found in all portions of our country. In October, 1877, a circular was issued from Lyme, Connecticut, by some of the descendants of Richard Ely, who came from Plymouth, England, in 1660, and settled at Lyme, suggesting the holding of a family re-union in that town the following year. This circular was widely distributed, and many copies were sent to those who had no knowledge of any connection with Richard Ely. It was found that the old story of three brothers coming from England from whom all of the name had descended, was one familiar to many of the Elys, who supposed they were descendants of one of the brothers. Responses to this circular were received from some who could trace no connection with Richard Ely, and six months later another and wider call of invitation was issued, from which the following extract is taken:

"The undersigned, descendants of Richard and Nathaniel Ely, respectfully request your attendance at a FAMILY RE-UNION, to be held at Lyme, Connecticut, on Wednesday, July 10, 1878. You will also extend this invitation to such of the descendants as you may know."

When the clans gathered at the time mentioned, it was found there were representatives present from three distinct families, viz: Nathaniel, Richard and Joshua Ely, but all effort to connect them as brothers, cousins, or even cousins "removed," has failed, and instead of publishing a genealogy, including the several branches, as was first proposed, each branch has taken in charge its separate work.

More than a year previous to this meeting, Mrs. Amanda (Ely) Terry, of Holyoke, Mass., on the solicitation of her uncle, Samuel Ely, commenced the collection of material for a genealogy of the Nathaniel Ely branch, her uncle paying all expenses. She had made considerable progress and anticipated great pleasure in attending the meeting at Lyme, to which she looked forward with interest, expecting to form many acquaintances, and secure the aid of those who would assist her in her work. An all-wise Providence ordered otherwise. Her death occurred only six days previous to that meeting, and a few months later the material she had collected was placed in the hands of the present compiler.

It was the original intention to restrict this genealogy to the families of those bearing the Ely name, but at a meeting in Holyoke, Mass., July 9, 1879, such interest was expressed by the descendants of other names, that it was decided to extend it, in the female line, to the families of grand children. This has added greatly to the dimensions of the work, as well as to the labor of collecting material, and has delayed for a considerable time its publication. It is believed, however, that the additional records now obtained and published will be duly appreciated by those in whose especial interest they are included.

To all who have favored the compiler with reports when requested his thanks are given, and to those who have not only furnished records of their own families, but have given their time in procuring those of others, special acknowledgments are most heartily accorded, also to J. N. Bagg, Esq., of West Springfield, Mass., who, on two occasions, has kindly forwarded from Massachusetts to Ohio, the old record book of the town of West Springfield, from which extracts have been taken, also the records of the First Church in that place, which have aided in making up the records of families in the early generations.

In most cases the information requested has been cheerfully and promptly furnished; in others there has been a delay of months, and in still others repeated requests have failed to bring any reply, while a few have returned papers unfilled with no word of explanation. It will hence be seen how impossible it is even with persistent effort to make a complete Genealogical Record.

A word to those who discover, and to those who think they discover, errors in this record. No one can be more conscious than myself that errors will be found, but I think the number will not be large, and that many supposed errors, on further investigation, will be found correct entries.

When it is understood that reports furnished by several members of the same family differ materially in dates, and other particulars, to such extent as to render an extended correspondence necessary to endeavor to reconcile differences, and even then it is sometimes necessary to strike a general average and make the record as correct as possible, some idea of the difficulty of making perfect records will be obtained.

Some will undoubtedly be disappointed in failing to find the record of families which should be included. To all such I can only say that so far as I know, there is not a single instance, even of a grandchild, whose address I could obtain, to whom I have failed to send a report to be filled out and returned, and in nearly every case of omission, it is owing to a failure to receive information requested.

The circulars calling meetings at Lyme in Connecticut and Holyoke in Massachusetts above referred to, contained representations or fac-similes of coats of arms supposed to belong to the Nathaniel and Richard Ely families. Leaving those of the Richard branch to determine for themselves the genuineness of the arms of that branch as represented on the circulars, I desire to make some statements on the general subject, which may interest members of the Nathaniel branch, especially those who have in their possession that which they regard as the coat of arms of this family. There are families in this country who have no difficulty in tracing their lineage from progenetors in Great Britain, or other foreign countries, who had an unquestioned right to coats of arms which their descendants in this country appropriate, and to this no reasonable objection can exist; but it seems scarcely desirable, that those having no claim to anything of this kind, should appropriate that which has never been used by anyone as a legitimate coat of arms.

It is well known by those who have given attention to the subject, that during the last century there were several heraldic painters in New England who attained considerable celebrity in their profession, and made coats of arms for those who desired them for the sum of five dollars each. These painters having in their possession, English and other works on heraldry, from which they obtained descriptions of the arms of those having the same sur-names, were able to adapt their work to each case. I copy from the "Heraldic Journal" of June, 1865, page 95, published in Boston, an extract from an article on this subject:

"Many families in New England possess old paintings of their coats of arms, which appear all to have come out of the same mill. They are blazoned on a sheet of paper, about 14 inches by 10. The shield generally (if not always) surmounted by an esquire's, or closed, side-faced helmet, of blue and gold, although an esquire's helmet should be plain steel. Outside of the two lower corners of the shield are often (if not always) two green branches. On the scroll, instead of the motto, the words, 'By the name of Smith,' and written under the whole 'He beareth argent a lion, rampant, azure, by the name of Smith,' or whatever else the name and arms may be."

The following fac-simile of the arms of the Nathaniel Ely family on the circulars above mentioned is undoubtedly one of those to which allusion is made in the "Heraldic Journal." It has been in the possession of members of that family more than a century, so long that those to whom it now belongs have cherished it as an heirloom of great value, and I would not in the least detract from its worth in that regard, knowing well that the engrailed fess between six fleurs-de-lis is a part of an Ely coat of arms. "Written under the whole" on this fac-simile are the words "He beareth argent a fesse engrailed, between six flower-de-luces sable, by the name of ELY."

The construction of the above motto would seem to warrant the declaration that this coat of arms is one of those described in the above extract.

From the information I have obtained of the parentage and immediate ancestry of our Nathaniel, I am confident that his descendants have no claim to any coat of arms and may well content themselves with Cowper's utterance,

"My boast is not that I deduce my birth,
From loins enthroned and rulers of the earth,
But higher far my proud pretensions rise,
The son of parents passed into the skies."

As our ancestor was doubtless descended from an English rector, and was himself, undoubtedly, an active member of a christian church, so also have his descendants, to a large extent, maintained the christian character of their ancestors.

As there may be some who think that if not directly, yet indirectly, they have a claim to some distinction of the kind, I give a representation of a coat of arms which may have been granted to, or duly authorized to be used by some Ely, and as no penalty attaches in this country to the appropriation of such matters, any who are disposed can make such use of this as they desire, with the express understanding that there is no probability that any descendant of Nathaniel Ely will be able to discover in his line the original owner:

Ely

Description: Field, argent, a fesse engrailed between six fleurs-de-lis sable. Crest, on an helmet and wreath of its colors. An arm erect, couped below the elbow, cuff argent, holding in the hand proper a fleur-de-lis sable. Motto: Re et merito.

The motto, as given in several copies of this coat of arms, is "Re e merito," which some hold to be correct, but I substitute et for e, and give the motto as I find it in Elvin's hand-book of mottoes, London, 1860, page 170, "Re et merito. By reality and merit."

Being desirous of obtaining any information possible respecting the ancestors of Nathaniel Ely and his early life, I considered myself very fortunate in being able to secure the valuable services of the late Col. Joseph L. Chester, D. C. L., LL. D., "the American Genealogist." From 1861 until his death, May 26, 1882, Col. Chester resided in London, and devoted his time to genealogical investigations in the counties and parishes of England. His services were recognized by various antiquarian, historical, genealogical and literary societies. In 1877 the trustees and faculty of Columbia College, New York, conferred upon him the degree of LL. D., and in 1881 the ancient University of Oxford, England, bestowed upon him the degree of Doctor of the Civil Law, in acknowledgment of his services as a genealogist—the first, and only instance, it is understood, in which that degree has been conferred for such a cause.

His report, made a short time previous to his death, gives the result of his investigations, and although not as complete and certain in determining the ancestors of Nathaniel as will be desired, is probably as definite as any which can be secured at this time, and if correct, it establishes the fact that our ancestor was, though of humble, yet of highly honorable and respectable parentage. That report is herewith submitted.

With this explanation, the work, which has been one of growing interest to the compiler during the years he has devoted to it, is now sent out with the hope that those for whom it has been prepared will find it, if not so complete as they have expected, still, of such interest that they will not regret having contributed to make it what it purports to be, a Genealogy of Nathaniel Ely and his Descendants.

Very truly yours.

MY DEAR SIR :—I have delayed writing out the result of my investigation at Canterbury, and elsewhere in Kent, until I could make some researches at Lincoln, which seemed to be necessary. Those results, I am sorry to say, are of a somewhat negative character, but the facts obtained, although not conclusive in themselves, reasonably admit of certain inferences which may perhaps be accepted as a probable solution of the question at issue. I have heretofore stated that among all my collections relating to the name of Ely, the results of researches that have been as exhaustive as I could well make them, and in which I had a personal interest, as a descendant of one of the families of that name, I had found the christian name of Nathaniel in but a solitary instance. This was an occurrence so remarkable that it seemed important to pursue, if possible, the history of this Nathaniel Ely, in the hope of discovering him to have been connected in some way with the early emigrant to America of those names. I have now done all that it seems possible to do in this direction, and proceed to lay before you all the facts I have been able to obtain, when you will be able to form your own estimation of their value.

On the 26th of April, 1571, one George Ely became Vicar of Tenterden, in the county of Kent, and continued to hold that living until his death, in the year 1615, being a long incumbency of more than 44 years. The patrons of the living were the Dean and Chapter of Canterbury, and the records of that body simply mention his institution at the date named, without any other particulars about him. He is described, however, as George Elye, alias Heely. In the parish register of Tenterden, the name is spelt indifferently Elie, Ely, and Elye, but never with the alias, and he signed his own will as Ely only. It is impossible to account for the existence of these aliases at this period, but they were common enough. At this time and to a much later period, an incumbent of a church living was necessarily a member of one or two of the great universities. Even the distinguished continental divines who sought refuge in England were compelled to incorporate themselves at one of the universities before they could become rectors or vicars of churches, or prebredaries of cathedrals It may be accepted as certain that this George Ely was either an Oxford or a Cambridge graduate. A careful examination of the Cambridge records shows that there was no George Ely, or Heely, connected with that university previous to 1571, when one of the name became Vicar of Tenterden. As to Oxford I can speak with the utmost positiveness as I made some years ago a complete transcript of the matriculation registers, from the earliest period down to modern times, and have the entries arranged chronologically and alphabetically. I can say at once that no George Ely occurs in those registers during the 16th century, but in the earliest list of the officers and students of Magdalen Hall, dated on the 20th of February, 1564, is the name of George Helie. Subsequent to this the dates of matriculation of the respective students are regularly given, but this list merely gives all the members of each particular college or hall on this particular day. George Helie may, therefore, have been a student at Magdalen Hall for one or two or even three years before this date. The parentage of the students is not recorded in the register until a later period, about 1620, and he is described only as from the county of Lincoln, then aged 19 years, and as having paid the fees of a plebian son. (There was a tariff of fees, the highest being paid by the sons of the nobility, the succeeding ranks being knights, esquires or doctors of the university, gentlemen, clerks, (clergymen), and finally plebians, after whom came only the pauper scholars, or those who from any cause paid no fees. Some idea of the status of these different ranks may be gathered from the fact that the matriculation fee paid by the sons of the highest nobility was £4.5.2, while that demanded of a plebian's son was only 6 shillings and 8 pence.)

This George Helie (as the name occurs) was, therefore, born about 1545, and would probably take his B. A. degree at the age of 21, in 1566. So that there is no difficulty and probably no danger, in identifying him with the George Ely, alias Heely, who five years later obtained the living of Tenterden. The variation in the spelling of the name, as Helie and Heely, is of no account whatever. There was no standard of orthography in those days, even as to names of persons or places, each scribe spelling according to his own peculiar phonetic notions. It seems impossible that there can be any doubt as to the identity, as there was no George Ely or Heely (in any variation of the name) at Cambridge, and no other at Oxford, and, as the incumbent of Tenterden must have belonged to one of these universities, the identification may be said to be legally established.

I have gone beyond the scope of my proposed researches, and spent considerable time and money in the hope of tracing this George Helie to his Lincolnshire home. I have read every Ely (or Helie) will in the local Registry of Probate at Lincoln, and do not find him mentioned in any one of them. The christian name George appears not to have been a common one in the Ely families of Lincolnshire. The only will of one of the name is that of George Eley, of Great Carlton, dated 3rd of April, 1570, and proved 27th of March, 1571. He was a man in humble life, and named only a son John and three daughters. On the chance of his not naming a son George, by reason of his being already provided for, I went to Great Carlton and examined the parish registers, but in vain. It would be idle, on the score of time and expense, to think of a systematic examination of all the parish registers in Lincolnshire, several hundreds in number, the great majority of which now in existence do not commence until after the date of George Ely's birth, and I fear that the history of his family in that county must be left to the chance of some happy accident, though the probability is that nothing ever will, or can be, ascertained respecting it. His origin was evidently humble, though his parents or friends must have been thrifty, and people of character, to have been able to have sent him to the university at all. But they have left no trace behind them, and we must accept him as we find him. He is certainly entitled to respect, as having from a lowly position elevated himself into a university scholar and a divine, and hence, by the act of Parliament, a gentleman.

George Ely probably married in 1571, the year he obtained the living of Tenterden, being then 26 years of age, as his children (except one) were all baptized there, the eldest in the following year. I have made every effort to discover the antecedents of his wife, but only learn that her christian name was Florence. I examined all the marriage licenses of the period at Canterbury, as well as those at the Archbishop's two offices in London, and at the registry of the Bishop of London. The series at the first and last are tolerably perfect, but at the two others sadly deficient, so that a license may have existed; but they may have been married by banns, in any parish, and in that case the search for the record, without any clew, would be hopeless.

The children of George Ely, by Florence, his wife, were ten in number, nine of whom were baptized at Tenterden, and two buried, all between the years of 1572 and 1591. They will be particularly enumerated hereafter. After an incumbency and wedded life of 44 years, they were not long divided by death, for they were buried within three days of each other. In the Burial Register of Tenterden occur the following melancholy but interesting entries:

"1615, August 18, Florence, wife of Mr. George Ely, vicar. 1615, August 21, Master George Ely, Vicar of Tenterden."

His wife was alive on the 13th of August, for on that day he made his will of which the following is a full abstract:

I, George Ely, Vicar of Tenterden, in the county of Kent, &c. To the poor of Tenterden, 10 shillings. To Florence, my wife, all her wearing apparel, and £13.6.8, four loads of wood, a seam of barley, a seam of wheat, &c., and the use of my household goods for life. After my said wife's death all my household goods to my daughter, Abigail, wife of Henry Verser, and Lydia Ely, daughter of my son, Andrew Ely, deceased, equally. All my apparel to be sold, and the money arising therefrom to be paid to Daniel Ely, son of my said son Andrew Ely, deceased, when 22 years of age, or, if he die before then, to his sister Lydia, at her age of 22 or on her marriage. To said Lydia, £8. To Obadiah, my son, 40 shillings, and to his son Robert, £5, when 22 years of age. To my daughter Judith, wife of Richard Marden, 40 shillings. To Zacharye, my son, 10 shillings. To Susan, Margaret and Sarah Ely, daughters of my son Nathaniel Ely, deceased, each £6.13.4, at their respective ages of 18 or marriage. To my daughters-in-law, Susanna Ely, Alice Ely, Mary Ely, Elizabeth Ely and Susannah Glover, each 5 shillings. To each other of my children's children 10 shillings. To Daniel, my son, my little folded table, also my two pieces of land in Tenterden, called Bramble Teake and Raynaldisham. To John, Thomas, Francis and Nathaniel, sons of my said son Nathaniel Ely, deceased, messuages and certain lands, &c., in Woodchurch, equally. To my said wife Florence, £4 per annum for life, also a messuage or tenement, &c., in Tenterden in the occupation of Vincy Glover, for her life, with remainder to my sons Samuel and Daniel. All residue to my said two sons, and I appoint my said son Samuel my executor.

The will was proved at Canterbury, by the son Samuel Ely, on the 30th of August, 1615, [recorded vol. 43, folio 215.]

It would be interesting, if it were possible, to ascertain whether any sudden calamity befell this household. The father makes his will on the 13th of the month without stating that he is ill, and provides for his wife as though he counted on her continued life, and yet eight days later the grave has closed over both of them, he outliving her. It is a remarkable case.

The issue of Rev. George Ely and Florence, his wife, were as follows:

1. Nathaniel of whom hereafter.

2. Andrew, who was baptized at Tenterden, 12 June, 1575. According to his father's will he died before August 13, 1615, leaving a son Daniel not then 22 years of age. It is probable that his widow had re-married, and was "Susannah Glover" named in Rev. George Ely's will as one of his daughters-in-law. There is no record in the Tenterden registers of the marriage or burial of Andrew, and he had probably removed to some other parish. No will of his is to be found.

3. Zachary, who was baptized at Tenterden, 14 October, 1577, and was still living 13 August, 1615, when he had a legacy of only 10 shillings. No further trace of him has been found.

4. Samuel, who was baptized at Tenterden, 13 December, 1579. He was his father's executor, and one of his residuary legatees, but I have failed to find him at any later date.

5. Obadiah, who was baptized at Tenterden, 17 December, 1581, and married there, 25 January, 1606-7, to Mary Bowne. Both were living, 13 August, 1615, with a son Robert, who was not, however, baptized at Tenterden. After this date they have all eluded my vigilance.

6. Lydia, who was baptized at Tenterden on the 14th of June, 1584, and buried there on the 16th of the same month.

7. Daniel, who was baptized at Tenterden on the 5th of June, 1586, and was living 13 August, 1615, one of his father's residuary legatees, but then disappears as mysteriously as the others. Elizabeth Ely and Alice Ely, named in Rev. George Ely's will as his daughters-in-law, were of course the wives of two of the three brothers Zachary, Samuel, and Daniel, but of which two it is impossible to determine.

8. Lydia, second of the name, who was baptized at Tenterden, 29 September, 1588, and buried there 25 October, 1591.

9. Abigail, who was baptized at Tenterden, 21 March, 1590-1 and was living 13 August, 1615, then the wife of Henry Verser.

10. Judith, who was not baptized at Tenterden, and may perhaps belong to an earlier place in the family record. She was living 13 August, 1615, then the wife of Richard Marden.

All the children appear to have strayed away from their birth-place, probably by reason of their respective marriages. No later trace of any of them is to be found in the Tenterden registers, nor did any one of them leave a will, nor is there either at Canterbury or London, any records of administration of their estates. They may have died in too humble circumstances, or they may have still further strayed to more distant parts of the country, but the complete disappearance of all of them affords one of the most remarkable instances in all my experience. I do not think I have left any stone unturned, so far as the county of Kent is concerned, with the reservation that I have not of course examined the local registers of the hundreds of parishes in the county, as in the case of Lincolnshire, and for the same reasons.

We now return to Nathaniel Ely, the eldest son, and apparently the eldest child of Rev. George Ely and Florence, his wife. He was baptized at Tenterden on the 28th of September, 1572, and was married there on the 9th of June, 1597, to Susan Dowle. (In her father-in-law's will she is called Susanna, and in the Tenterden register Susan, but the two names were used indifferently.) In the record of the marriage he is described as "Clerk, Master of Arts." This proves that he was a member of one of the universities. He certainly was not of Oxford, and hence must have been of Cambridge. Unfortunately there is a hiatus in the list of graduates extending from 1588 to 1602, covering the period when he must have taken his degrees, so that it is impossible to ascertain his particular college, there being no general matriculation register at Cambridge.

I cannot find that he obtained any church living anywhere in Kent. The lists of the incumbents of the various parishes during his period are generally in existence, but his name does not occur in any of them. The probability is that after his marriage he obtained a curacy, and never rose to any higher position in the church. But where he lived, and when and where he died, it has been impossible to ascertain. No will of his can be found, and the only further knowledge of him is that after having had at least seven children, he died before his father. It may be assumed that he lived at least ten years after his marriage and died some time between 1607 and 1615. We only know that he died before the 13th of August in the latter year, and that his widow, four sons and three daughters, were then living, the children, of course, all in their minority. No further trace of any of them can afterwards be found.

There is nothing inconsistent in the disappearance of this Rev. Nathaniel Ely, and the silence of the ordinary records concerning him. His father could not have been a rich man, and, although able to educate him at Cambridge, probably gave him little else to start in life with. Curates were never paid large salaries, but then as well as now, mere pittances. His own children appeared rapidly, and the probability is that at his death his pecuniary condition was such that the formality of a will was unnecessary. His children, as mentioned in their grandfather's will, were:

1, John; 2, Thomas; 3, Francis; 4, NATHANIEL; 5, Susan; 6, Margaret; 7, Sarah.

It is with Nathaniel only, the fourth son, that we have any special interest, and my suggestion, of course, is that he was probably the subsequent emigrant to New England. One or more of the daughters may have come between him and his elder brothers, but it is clear that he was the fourth son, and hence could not well have been born before 1602 at the earliest. Probably 1605 would be more near the date of his birth, and, assuming for the moment that he was the emigrant, he would have been about, or perhaps a little under, thirty years of age at his emigration, and about 70 years old at his death. These dates are perfectly consistent with what is known of the history of the emigrant himself, who apparently took with him to New England his wife and two children. Taking into consideration the facts that he was the only Nathaniel Ely whom I can find living anywhere in England at this period, that no subsequent trace of him can be found here ; that his age and dates are consistent with those of the emigrant, and that at about the time of his emigration numerous persons did emigrate from Tenterden, and other parishes in that part of the county of Kent, I cannot in my own mind resist the conviction that he was identical with the Nathaniel Ely who appeared in New England about 1634. Of course, there is no absolute proof, but this group of facts is strongly suggestive, and to them I should perhaps add that to his son he gave the name of Samuel, which, it will be remembered, was the name of Rev. George Ely's executor and apparently favorite son.

Faithfully yours,

JOSEPH LEMUEL CHESTER.

EXPLANATORY.

1st. Each family record is intended to be complete in itself. This is deemed advisable, even at the expense of repetition of birth and death, that the entire record of each family may be seen without referring to the family of the parent to ascertain those particulars in the case of the child whose record is given.

2d. The genealogical number is entered in figures, the family number in Roman numerals.

3d. In the record of children of each family, are given in separate columns:—first, the full christian name; second, the date and place of birth, and third, the date and place of death.

4th. The genealogical number given in connection with the name of each person is retained and entered in bold type over the family record of the same person in the following generation.

5th. An asterisk (*) placed before the family number, indicates that the record of that person will be found in its proper place in the next generation.

5th. Previous to the year 1753 the legal year began on the 25th of March, which was called the first month, April and May being the second and third, so continuing to February, which was the twelfth. Between January 1st and March 25th double dates were used in two forms, one expressing the year thus, "1642-3," the other placing the last figure of the date in the form of a fraction thus, "Jan'y 28, 172½." In this genealogy the year is intended to conform to the new style, i. e., a birth on February 15, 174$^{2}_{3}$ old style is entered February 15, 1743.

7th. Where a woman's name occurs, thus: Editha (Stebbins) Day, (see record of Samuel Ely, No. 2) it will be understood that the name in parenthesis, is her original or maiden name, and the name following is that acquired by marriage.

8th. West Springfield, Mass., being all that part of the original town of Springfield lying on the west side of the Connecticut river, was organized as a separate town in 1774.

Longmeadow, being that part of Springfield lying east of Connecticut river and south of the present southern boundary of Springfield, was organized as a separate town in 1783.

Chicopee, being that part of Springfield lying east of the Connecticut river and north of the present northern boundary of Springfield, was organized as a separate town in 1848.

Holyoke, formerly known as Ireland Parish, in West Springfield, being that part of said town lying north of the present northern boundary of West Springfield, was organized as a separate town in 1850.

Agawam, being that part of the original town of West Springfield lying south of the present southern boundary, was organized as a separate town in 1855.

In the early generations most of the descendants of Nathaniel Ely, exclusive of those in Longmeadow, resided on the west side of Connecticut river, and in the following records their place of birth and place of death are given as occurring in West Springfield, notwithstanding that town had not at the time been organized. So those in Longmeadow are similarly entered. This is also true to a limited extent in the case of persons in Chicopee, Holyoke and Agawam.

In some cases the place of birth of a person may be given as West Springfield, and the death in Holyoke, although that person may have died in the house in which he was born.

This long explanation respecting localities seemed necessary to a clear understanding of the records.

NATHANIEL ELY.

Of the early life of NATHANIEL ELY, the emigrant, as will be seen in the foregoing statement of Colonel Chester, we have no positive knowledge, and are compelled to assume dates, which are presumed to be nearly correct.

Following, then, Colonel Chester's suggestion, we will assume that he was born in Tenterden, in the county of Kent, England, in 1605, that he received an ordinary education, and in due time married MARTHA ———, by whom he had two children, a son and a daughter. If there were others our efforts to trace them have been fruitless. He probably emigrated to this country to escape the persecutions under Charles I, as he appears to have been a Puritan.

There are several circumstances which may warrant the conclusion that he was one of the emigrants to America in April, 1634, in the bark Elizabeth, from Ipswich, in England, to Boston, in New England, with Robert Day, whose name appears in the printed list of passengers, while Nathaniel Ely's does not. If not a passenger on that ship, his coming doubtless either preceded, or succeeded that of his friend by a short interval. It is certain that on his arrival in this country he first settled in Newtown, now Cambridge, Mass., on a lot adjoining one owned and occupied by Robert Day, with whom he was subsequently intimately associated, and with whose descendants and his own there have been a larger number of marriage connections than with any other family, commencing with that of Samuel, the son of Nathaniel, to Mary, the daughter of Robert.

On the 6th day of May, 1635, Nathaniel Ely and Robert Day were made freemen at Cambridge, and were doubtless members of some church in that jurisdiction. The qualifications of a freeman were that he should be "twenty-one years of age, of sober and peaceable conversation, orthodox in the fundamentals of religion and possessed of a ratable estate of twenty pounds."

In June, 1636, the Rev. Thomas Hooker, the first minister of the church in Cambridge, and about one hundred others, men, women and children, probably including Nathaniel Ely and Robert Day, with their wives and children, threaded their way through the wilderness, with no other guide than a compass, to a fertile spot on the banks of the Connecticut river, and made the first settlement of the city of Hartford. Here, too, as in Cambridge, Mr. Ely and Mr. Day owned adjoining homesteads, as appears from the old records, and from a map of Hartford, as the town appeared in 1640.

The description of Mr. Ely's lot, taken from the old records, is as follows:

"One parcel on which his dwelling-house now standeth with yards or gardens therein being, conteyneing by estimation two acres more or les, abutting on the highway leading from the Centinell Hill to the North Meadow on the west, and on William Westhood's land on the east, and on the highway leading to William Westhood's and on William Westhood's land on the south, and on Robert Dayes' land on the north."

In addition to the above there are descriptions of nine other pieces of land in Hartford owned by him. In 1639 he was one of the constables of the town, and one of the selectmen in 1643, and again in 1649. Constables, besides their duties as instruments of justice to execute the orders of magistrates and courts, were especially charged with preserving the peace of the town, with executing its laws when resisted, with the enforcement of penalties, with the collection of rates, and with the oversight of watches and wards. The solemn oath required was:

"I, A. B. of Hartford, do sweare by the great and dreadful name of the everlasting God, that for the yeare ensuing, and untill a new be chosen, I will faythfully execute the office of a constable, for and within the said plantation of Hartford, and the lymits thereof, and that I will endeavor to presearve the public peace of the said place and Commonwealth, and will doe my best endeavour to see all watches and wards executed, and to obey and execute all lawful commands or warrants that come from any magestrat or magestrats, or courte, so help me God, in the Lord Jesus Christ."

The name of Nathaniel Ely is on the monument erected in Hartford to the memory of its first settlers.

He appears to have been one of the leading men in purchasing the lands of Governor Roger Ludlowe, previously purchased by him of the Indians, and making the first settlement at Norwalk, Connecticut. According to the existing town records, it appears that no permanent settlement was made at Norwalk until Nathaniel Ely moved in the matter, notwithstanding Governor Ludlowe had purchased the lands ten years before, viz: in February and April, 1640. In 1649 on the petition of Nathaniel Ely and Richard Olmsted, of Hartford, the General Court gave permission for the settlement of Norwalk, and about four years after invested the inhabitants with town privileges. The following is a copy of the Indian deed given in February, 1640, to Roger Ludlowe.

INDIAN DEED TO ROGER LUDLOWE.

On the 19th day of June, 1650, Roger Ludlowe conveyed to Nathaniel Ely, Richard Olmsted and their associates, the lands purchased by him of the Indians, with certain reservations as set forth in the following copy of a portion of the agreement.

"Imprimis, the sayed Nathaniel Eli and Rithard Olmsted, doe covenant and promise and agree that they will set upon the plantinge of the sayed Norwalke, with all convenient speed; will mowe and stacke some hay upon the sayed Norwalke this winter, to the end that they may, in the spring next at farthest, breake up some ground to plante the next season, followinge; and that then they will begin to build and inhabite their—with some considerable companie, and to invite an orthodoxe and approved minister with all convenient speede that they may be; and that the plantation shall not be taken up under thirtie approved families, in a short time to be settled their, and so to continue; and that or the like considerable companie; and that they will not receive in, any that they be obnoxious to the publique good of the Commonwealth of Connecticut.

Witness our hands.

ROGER LUDLOWE.

On the 15th day of February, 1651, the Indians executed a deed, of which the following is a copy:

Pr. JOHN COPP, Recordr."

On the 13th of April, 1654, Roger Ludlowe conveyed to Nathaniel Ely and others his entire interest in Norwalk, as follows:

"A copye of the assignment of Norwalke, purchased by Mstr. Ludlowe unto Norwalke inhabitants

Aprill the 13th, 1654.

Memorandum. That the sayed Roger Ludlowe, doth by these pressentes, assigne and sett over unto Nathaniell Eli and the rest of the inhabitants of Norwalke, all my title, interest, claime and demands whatsoever to the plantation of Norwalke and every part thereof, and doe acknowledge myselfe satisfied for the same. Witness my hand the day and year above.

RD. LUDLOWE.

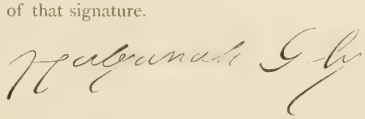
For the first two years after the "plantynge" of Norwalk the town records are incomplete, and it is not apparent that Nathaniel Ely had actually settled there until 1654, when he was elected constable, then a very responsible office, and one which he had filled in Hartford. From this date during his residence there, he was a prominent man in the new settlement, a select man in 1656, and a Representative to the General Court in 1657. In the list of estates for 1655 his was the third, being valued at £293.

A paper recently found in Norwalk contains the only signature of Nathaniel Ely which has thus far been discovered. In a book of "Proceedings," a large part of which is detached sheets, one has a heading indicating that those whose names are appended were

"SUBSCRIBERS TO YE CORNE MILL."

The third name is Nathaniel Ely, undoubtedly a genuine signature, notwithstanding the E in Ely has the appearance of our modern G. The "th" in the christian name is often found similarly written in old manuscripts.

The following is a fac-simile of that signature.



In 1659, he sold his property in Norwalk to Thomas Betts, and removed to Springfield, Mass., where the remainder of his life was spent. Here, as in Norwalk and Hartford, he was called to serve the public soon after his arrival. He was select man in Springfield in 1661, '63, '66, '68, '71 and '73. His place of residence from 1660 until 1665 is not definitely known, though it is probable it was in that part of Springfield now known as Chicopee. It is said that when the Rev. Thomas Hooker and his party made their way through the wilderness in 1636, their course from Cambridge was nearly west until they reached the Connecticut river at a point near the junction of the Chicopee river with the Connecticut; thence down the Connecticut, along the eastern bank, possibly to the shallow water in the north part of Windsor, where they could ford the river, and from thence reach their destination, passing down the river along the western bank, or possibly continuing along the eastern bank to a point opposite the city of Hartford, and there crossing the river. There is no probability that our emigrant in 1636 selected in Springfield the land on which he should reside nearly thirty years later, but it is worthy of note that he should, after the lapse of so many years, return to find a home on land over which he had probably passed with that company so long before.

The following copy of an imperfect record probably describes a piece of land on which Mr. Ely resided at the time the record was made. This conjecture is warranted by a copy also given of the laying of a road in which reference is made to Mr. Ely's land.

"Nathaniel Ely.—Also by the grant of the plantation of twenty acres more or less of up-land by Chiccuppee river side, lying by the westerly side of the first deep dingle above Rowland Thomas' his land, in length up and down the river about 100 rods, the breadth at the east end 35 rods, and at the west end 30 rods."

Recorded August 12th, 1664.

COPY OF LAYING A ROAD.

"Here followeth the return of Nathaniel Ely and Rowland Thomas appointed to lay a road to Chiccuppee River."

"We underwrit being appointed and ordered by the selectmen in October, 1665, (1664?) to consider of a common way to and over the Chiccuppee River near by Rowland Thomas and to lay it out, do make return of what we have done as followeth. We do conceive that the common way over Chiccuppee River should go above the island about 20 rods, where the Indian common wading place was formerly, or a little higher, and so from thence to run up ye River, on this side of ye River about 20 rods or more and there to turn off in the vacant ground betwixt Nathaniel Ely's and Rowland Thomas' land into the Pine Plain and so to the Town. This highway to be in breadth from Chiccuppee River to the Brow of the hill, which is about 7 or 8 rods, and where it turns from ye river there to be 20 rods broad. Given under our hands this 1st of February, 1665.

Nathaniel Ely,

Rowland Thomas (x) his mark.

February ye 5th, 1665. The selectmen do accept of this return, and order the highway above said to be as is there Described and appointed."

The year 1665 was marked by a change of residence, and by a radical change of occupation, for the particulars of which, and for several incidents connected therewith, I am indebted to an article written by Hon. Henry Morris, of Springfield, and published in the Springfield Republican of August 4th, 1879, in which, writing of Nathaniel Ely, he says:

"Whatever may have been his previous occupation, it is certain that in 1665 he became the keeper of the "ordinary," or tavern, a business which he continued to follow during the residue of his life. The ordinary keepers in those days were very respectable men. Selectmen would not approve, nor the court license any other. The record of the county court held at Springfield, September 26, 1665, sets forth his license, as follows:

'Nathaniel Ely, of Springfield, being desired and putt upon to keep ordinary there, or house for Comon Entertaynment, was by this Corte lycensed to that worke, as also for selling wines or strong liquors for ye yeere ensuing, Provided he keep good rule and order in his house. Also ye said Nathaniel Ely is upon his desire by this Corte released from Trayning in ye Towne soe long as he continues to keep ye Ordinary.'

"His license as an inn-holder was renewed from year to year until his death in 1675. This shows that his administration was on the whole successful. He did not, however, escape entirely the sorrows incident to his occupation. Twice he was before the county court charged with a violation of his duty as an inn-keeper. The first instance was September 24, 1667, when, according to the record, Nathaniel Ely was complained of by the selectmen of Springfield for selling four quarts of cider to Indians contrary to law. Being called upon to purge himself by his oath, as provided by law, he refused to do it, and was adjudged to pay £16 or 40s. per pint. In consideration of his regard for the sanctity of an oath, or from some other motive, the General Court afterward abated this fine one-half.

"The second instance in which his conduct as keeper of the ordinary incurred the displeasure of the county court is one of marked peculiarity, and is significant of the man and of the times. At the county court in September, 1674, 'the jury presented Nathaniel Ely, the ordinary keeper at Springfield, for not keeping beer constantly in his house according to law, for which they testify his own confession. Whereupon he being called into ye Corte, sitting in his house, and examined about the case he did acknowledge the thing; that he of late has kept only table beere, but could not say it was according to law, viz: after the rate of 4 bushels of good barley malt to ye hhd., and further, he said he would not be turned out of his way; whereupon ye Corte fyned him 40s. for ye use of ye county, all persons also judging this beere farr below that rule in ye law.' How far the action of the court was influenced by the circumstance that the defendant's house was the place where the court held its session and had its 'Entertaynment' is a question upon which the record sheds no further light."

Note.—The contrast in the two cases is worthy remark. In the first where there was a possibility of others suffering, had he purged himself by his oath in conformity to the law, supposing him to have been guiltless, he preferred to suffer himself rather than by his act cause suffering on the part of others. In the second case, when he had furnished an article having much less of the intoxicating principle than the law required, consequently much less injurious, he frankly admits the truth of the charge, and not only this, but he says to the court "that he would not be turned out of his way" in furnishing for the court and for the people a milder beverage than the law required. Though subjected to a fine it does not appear that his license was revoked.

The old Ely tavern of 200 years ago occupied a prominent place on Main street, in Springfield, and was occupied as a private residence for many years. It was removed about 40 years since to another location, and is now standing on the corner of Dwight and Sanford streets, one of the oldest, if not the oldest, building in Springfield.

We have thus sketched the life of our emigrant ancestor, which was one of great activity and frequent change, also one charged with responsible public trusts. That these varied trusts were satisfactorily discharged is evidenced by his appointment or election to them in each place of his residence, not for a single term only, but repeatedly, and until near the close of his life, the last being that of selectman in Springfield in 1673.

He died intestate in Springfield, December 25, 1675. Martha, his wife, also died in Springfield, October 23, 1688.

SAMUEL ELY, son of NATHANIEL, (No. 1). Of the place and date of his birth we have no record. His name first appears as a witness to the Indian deed given to his father and others, dated February 15, 1651, and does not appear again in the Norwalk records. The probability is that he was a young man, unmarried, during his residence in Norwalk. He was probably born in Hartford, or in Cambridge, Mass., and on his father's removal to Springfield accompanied him, as he married in that place October 28, 1659, MARY DAY, daughter and youngest child of ROBERT DAY, and his second wife, EDITHA (Stebbins). Mary was born in Hartford, in 1641, and at the time of her marriage was 18 years of age.

SAMUEL ELY was quite successful in acquiring property, and at his death left a considerable estate. He died in Springfield, March 19, 1692. There is no record of his having held any official position.

After his death his widow was twice married, first in Springfield, April 12, 1694, to THOMAS, son of THOMAS and HANNAH (Wright) STEBBINS, who was born in 1648, and died in Springfield, in 1695, second December 11, 1696, to Deacon JOHN COLEMAN, of Hatfield, son of THOMAS and FRANCES (Welles) COLEMAN, born about 1635, and died in Hatfield, Mass., January 21, 1711, where his widow, MARY DAY, died October 17, 1725, at the age of 84 years. Their grave stones are now standing in the old burying ground in Hatfield, and bear the following inscriptions:

Decon | John | Coleman Dyed | on January ye 21 | 1711 aged 76 | yeres and here | Buried. | | Mary ye | wife of Dec'n | John Coleman | Dyed on Oct. ye 17 | 1725 aged 84 | year. |

SAMUEL and MARY (Day) ELY, had sixteen children, ten dying in infancy, or when quite young, leaving only six who attained maturity and had families.

RUTH ELY, daughter of NATHANIEL (No. 1), was born probably in Hartford, Conn., possibly in Cambridge, Mass. She died in Springfield, Mass., October 12, 1662. She married in Springfield, August 3, 1661, JEREMY, or JEREMIAH HORTON, son of THOMAS and MARY HORTON.

After the death of RUTH ELY, Mr. Horton married MARY ——, by whom he had seven children, whose names are entered on the Springfield records, viz: Jeremiah, born Nov. 22, 1665; Samuel, Sept. 20, 1667; Thomas, Nov. 30, 1668; Timothy, Nov. 25, 1670; John, Sept. 12, 1672; Mary, July 20, 1674, and Benjamin, Oct. 2, 1682. JOSEPH ELY, called Deacon JOSEPH, son of SAMUEL, (No. 2), was born in Springfield, Mass., August 20, 1663, and died in West Springfield, April 29, 1755. MILES MORGAN,
CORNELIUS JONES,
EBENZ TAYLOR.

SAMUEL ELY, son of SAMUEL, (No. 2), was born in Springfield, Mass., May 9, 1668, and died in West Springfield, August 23, 1732.

He was a man prominent in town affairs; a selectman in 1702, 1710 and 1719, and was clerk of the second parish (West Springfield) from 1702 to 1721, excepting the years 1714-15. It was during the time that he officiated as clerk, that the lands of the parish were distributed to the residents, and a few extracts from the old records of West Springfield, showing how such matters were disposed of at that time, may be of interest to the descendants of those to whom those lands were assigned.

An attempt was made to divide the lands granted by the town of Springfield to the inhabitants on the west side of the great river, as follows:

"SPRINGFIELD, April ye 7th, 1707.

Att a meeting of the Inhabitants of the west side with Respect to the land now granted by the town to the Inhabitants on the west side of the great River, It was voted that every male person that is in the twenty-1st year of his age shall be accounted inhabitants according to the names expressed herein, and they to poses the sayed land as by the town is granted to them. Att a full meeting of the Inhabitants.

As attests,

Samll Ely

Clerk."

To the above are appended the names of 73 persons, including Joseph Ely, Sen., Joseph Ely, Jun., Samuel Ely, John Ely, Eben Day, Samuel Day and John Day. On the same date is the following entry:

"April ye 7th, 1707.

Att a meeting of the Inhabitants About the land given by the town. Here followeth an Account how the lots on the hill ware Drawn. And also of boath the other divisions as they ware numbered.

It was agreed to have three divisions, one below Aggowam river, one from the top of the hill next to Aggowam River to Run to dorbey Brook, and the next division to begin at dorbey's brook and so to extend to the end of the land given by the town.

Aggowam Division. The lots to be ten acres.

In this division were 20 lots of which Samuel Day drew lot No. 7.

The lots for the street division are 7 acres.

In this division John Day drew lot No. 1, Ebenezer Day drew lot No. 15, John Ely No. 30, and Samuel Ely, No. 31.

Chicebey lots above Dorbey's Brook, ten acres.

Of which Joseph Ely drew No. 8 and Joseph Ely (Junr. ?) No. 18.

"The Comiety Appointed by the town for modeling the land given on the hill, Did In may, 1707, with several of the Inhabitants lay out a highway that was to Run from the tope of the hill or Cartway that goeth up the hill by or near Aggowam River to Run thru the canal given by the town from sayed hill to Dorbey's brook. The Inhabitants having agreed to lay out the Lots on the Hill Being Drawn as is expressed on the foregoing Page they, the sayed Persons, owners of the Lots on the hill, Did In May next after the sayed meeting, Did Imploy the town measurer to lay out the Division of lots on the hill, the Account whereof is as followeth:

On ye east side of ye way, the first lot on the hill is Mr. Woodbridge, 21 Rod wide and 56 Rod Long. John Day, 21 Rod wide and 56. * * * * * * * * . In the west tear next to Dorbey's Brook the lots went on Ebenezer Day, 7 acres. * * * * * Samuel Day chose to be at Aggowam. * * * * * * John Ely, 7 acres.—SAMUEL ELY.

The above list of lots laid out by the town Measurer, was according to the Return made by him and wear exactly transcribed by me.

SAMUEL ELY, Clerk,
for this occasion."

Subsequently we find the following:

"Memorandum.

In order to Prevent all mistacks that may att any time hereafter arise, It is to be Remembered that All that was done About the Dividing of the land given by the town to the Inhabitants of this Precinct, The Proprietor saw cause to Reverse Because of the difficulties with the first Commitey that should have modeled the said Land so that what Records are of the Date of 1707, must be understood accordingly. And nothing was done to effect till after the town had chosen a new Commitey for Modeling the said land. So the dividing of the said land was delayed till the year 1720, as may be seen in the other end of this Book. And then was compleated.

SAMUEL ELY, Clerk."

"An acompt How the land is divided That was given to this precinct by the Town.

It is almost twelve years since ther was certain tracts of land given by the Town to the Inhabitants of this precinct. And it was expected the same should have Been forthwith divided. And some Indeavours ware used as may be seen by what is written in the begineing of the Booke to settle the same, But nothing was Accomplished till Tuesday, the 19th of April, Ano Dom, 1720. Then there was a meeting Regularly And lawfully warned by a warant from a Justice of the peace to Divide and distribute the said land. And the Proprietors being assembled Did chuse Left. John Day to be their Moderator, and Samuel Ely to be ther Clark, who was Imediately sworn to that office. And the Proprietors proceeded to draw a list of the Names of those that ware owners of, And had Right in the said land which ware of two denominations According to the Tenor of the grant, first, those that ware Petitioners, secondly, those that ware to be provided for. The names of the Petitioners according as was then determined by a vote are as followeth: [Fifty-seven names.]

In the next place, a list was drawn of the Names of those that ware to be provided for, who ware such as had Removed hither, and ware Inhabitants, or such of the Inhabitants as were born hear and had attained to the age of twenty-one years, which was determined by a vote, as followeth: [Forty-four names.]

Voted to divide the land in three Divisions, one division to extend from the top of the hill to dorbey's Brook. And one from dorbey's Brook to the upper end of the chickebey field. And one below Aggowam River. And then the meeting A Journed till the second tuesday in May."

Under this distribution those who had taken land under the former grant were generally permitted to retain the lands held by them, and those to whom no assignments were made in the former grant were provided for in this.

SAMUEL ELY married November 10, 1697, MARTHA, daughter of SAMUEL and MARY (Leonard) BLISS, born in Longmeadow, Mass., June 1, 1674, and died in West Springfield, July 6, 1702. SAMUEL ELY'S WILL.

"I, SAMUEL ELY, being weak and sick, yet through God's goodness have thought good to make and appoint this my last will and Testament, and I do in the first place give and bequeath my soul to God, who I hope is become my reconciled God and Father in Jesus Christ, through whose merit and bloodshed I hope to obtain forgiveness of my sins, and eternal life, and I commit my body to the earth to receive a Christian Burial, to rest in the grave while the resurrection, when I hope to obtain a joyful resurrection and Reunion of Soul and Body, to dwell with God and Christ in Glory to all eternity, and as for that small portion of worldly estate God hath been pleased to favor me with, I do by these presents order and dyspose of in manner following:

Imprimis. I give to my loving wife, SARAH ELY, the one-half of all my lands at home (except that which I call my lower orchard, of which more hereafter,) and one-half of that piece of mowing Ground called the mill lot, which she shall enjoy during the Term of Natural life, unless she shall see cause to marry, and that she shall have the third part of my movable estate at her own dispose.

Second. The other half of my lands, together with my Team and Tackling for Husbandry, I give to my son, NATHANIEL, (excepting the lower orchard as above said,) which he shall improve for his own benefit so long as his mother remains a Widdow, remaineth my Widdow and no longer, to enable and encourage him to take care of his mother, especially for firewood, here I would be understood to mean, the half of my land at whom, designing my mowing Ground in the mill lot, that half undisposed of, to be ordered as hereafter exprest.

Third. The half of my land in the mill lot (undisposed of as above) is to my son, NATHANIEL ELY, above said, which I give in a particular manner, to make him a recompence for what time he hath spent in my service, and for what money I have had of him, and shall not be Reckoned any part of his portion, but to pay a due debt I owe him.

Furthermore, I give to my said son, NATHANIEL ELY, that end of my whom lot next the Street, (viz:) from the Street to the lands called the lower orchard, the one-half of which shall be accounted part of his portion, the other half I give him to enable him to repair my buildings, and that my wife may have a comfortable house room, I include here all my buildings on said land.

Fourth. I give to my two sons, SAMUEL ELY and JOSEPH ELY, the land called the lower orchard, (viz:) from where the old fence was to extend, as far in length across the lane as to Samuel Day's bound stone, thence across the land to Christian's land, which I suppose will contain two or three acres, which they shall have in present improvement after my decease, which shall be accounted to them as part of their portion, due to them out of my estate. I have seen cause to alter that word present improvement, and SAMUEL and JOSEPH shall not improve only the apples till after their mother's decease or marriage, and the improvement of the land shall be to my wife and NATHANIEL ELY the time above specified, anything above said, notwithstanding, my meaning is that they shall enjoy the benefit of the apples after my decease and the land at their mother's decease or marriage.

Furthermore, JOSEPH ELY shall have that piece of land which I bought of William Scot, lying by Agawam bank, at the price of ten pounds, not oblidging my heirs to make it good, it shall not be counted any part of his portion.

Also, I give to my son, JOSEPH ELY, the one-half of my mill lot as part of his portion, which he shall not have until after his mother's death or marriage, and further, I will that JOSEPH, tread-loom and tackling be accounted to him, twenty pounds in part of portion. Furthermore, I give my cane to my son, SAMUEL ELY, and my wearing cloathes to my son, NATHANIEL ELY.

It is my will and pleasure also, that all my estate undisposed of, both real and personal, be divided amongst my children, (viz:) SAMUEL ELY, NATHANIEL ELY, JOSEPH ELY, MARTHA MIRICK, SARAH ELY, TRYPHENA ELY and MARY ELY, in such proportions as is hereafter exprest, (viz:) to my sons twenty pounds a piece, and my daughters ten pounds a piece, till the whole of my estate undisposed of be divided.

And I do appoint my loving wife, SARAH ELY, executrix, and my son, NATHANIEL ELY, executor of this, my last will and testament.

To the conformation of the above said premisses, I do set my hand and seal, this 13th day of Sept., 1731.

Signed, sealed in presence of
JOHN ELY,
JOSIAH DAY,
REUBEN ELY.

Furthermore, if what estate I have willed to my son JOSEPH, amounts to more than his equal proportion, he shall pay to his sister the over plus, so as to make his share equal to the proportion above said.

Hampshire, ss., Sept. 13, Anno Dom. 1731.

SAM'L ELY.

Subscribed to the foregoing instrument, acknowledged the same to be his act and deed before me.

WM. PYNCHON, Just. Peace.

I would be understood, that the moveables shall pay the daughters' portions so far as they will goes and then the sons shall have liberty to keep the land and pay to their sisters their respective portions, provided they do it in four or five years after the land cometh into their improvement. In the meantime I would have them pay what they are able.

SAM'L ELY."

Deacon John Ely survived his son John, after whose death Deacon John executed the following conveyance, which was duly recorded in Hampshire county records:

DEED OF JOHN ELY.

"To all the People to whom the Present Deed shall come. I, JOHN ELY, of Springfield, in the county of Hampshire and province of the Massachusetts Bay in New England, yeoman, send greeting. Whereas, I, the said JOHN ELY, some years agoe in the lifetime of all my five sons, JOHN, REUBEN, ABNER, CALEB, and NOAH, did with the knowledge and full likeing of all my said sons fix and determine with myself, the several shares or portions of real estate to be given to each of my said sons, which was designed to contain the whole of my real estate, and was designed to be ordered as to make the several shares respectively equal among themselves, and that the same should be secured to my said sons respectively by my last will and testament, then designed to be made accordingly, and whereas in the said proposed distribution of my said real estate, I then purposed to secure and devise as aforesaid to my son JOHN the home lott on which he dwelt, bounded west on the High Way and east on Connecticutt River, north on land of Obediah Cooley's and south on land of Christian Van Horn, containing about three acres and an half, with the building thereon; Also a ten acre lot of land lying in the same west side Connecticutt River, being a wood lott lying on the Hill adjacent to the High Way leading to Westfield, bounding north and east on highways, west on land of Caleb Parsons and southerly on another lot of my own land proposed to be given my son REUBEN in the aforesaid distribution, and by him sold accordingly to my son CALEB: Also my right and share lying in common and undivided in a lot of land in the mountain called Mount Tom, lying in the north division of the outward commons, on the west side of said river, and in said town, which was my father's lot, and also another piece of land containing nineteen acres, lying on the plain so called on the west side said river, and was laid out to me by the second committee so called of the proprietors of the common lands in said town, on the 30th day of October, 1744, the particular boundaries of which may be seen by return of said committee. And whereas the share or proportion of my said real estate which I then purposed to give and secure to my said son ABNER, consisted of the lands following, viz.: One-half my lott, called my Third Division lott, lying in the great field on the west side of the Great River in said Springfield, containing twenty acres in the whole, bounded easterly on land of Francis Ball and southerly on land called Downing's Meadow, westerly on land of Luke Hitchcock and northerly on land belonging to some of the heirs of Major John Day, late deceased; also of a lot (lying in the same field near Agawam, Ferry) called the Lunds, and containing about thirteen acres, be the same more or less, bounded westerly on land of some of the Days, southerly on Agawam River, easterly on highway that leads to said ferry.

And whereas, the share or part of my estate which I purposed as aforesaid to give to my son NOAH, contained the other half of the third division lot aforesaid, and also a lott called my Mill Lott, lying in a place called the neck in said general field, containing four acres and bounded east on Connecticutt River and west on Agawam River, southerly on Obediah Cooley's land, north on Sam'l Ely's land. And whereas soon afterwards my said sons ABNER and NOAH did by agreement between them and my said son JOHN, receive of him the value of their respective proposed shares of my estate aforesaid, and did agree with him that he should have the full benefit thereof and did each of them accordingly request me that I would assure the same to him. And whereas, my said sons JOHN and NOAH are since both deceased and no assurance made of the same lands. And whereas, my said son JOHN by his last will and testament (as I apprehend contrary to his kind and reasonable purpose) did bequeath all his personal estate to his children to the total exclusion of his widow from her proportion and share thereof, and being myself desirous as far as may be to make good the agreements of my said sons and at the same time to provide some remedys to the widow of my said son JOHN under the unhappiness aforesaid. Therefore in consideration of the premises and in consideration of the sum of five pounds lawfull money to me in hand, before the executing hereof, well and truly paid me by EUNICE ELY of said Springfield, gentlewoman, widow and relict of my said son JOHN deceased, the receipt whereof I do hereby acknowledge,

I have give, granted, bargained, released, conveyed and confirmed, and do hereby give, grant, bargain, sell, release, convey and confirm unto her, the said EUNICE, all the several parcels of land herein before mentioned and described, (excepting the one-half of the building standing on the same) to have and to hold the same with all the privileges and appurtenances to the same belonging or in any wise appertaining (excepting as aforesaid) to her, the said EUNICE, and her assigns, and for her and their sole and only use and benefit henceforth, for and dureing the the term of her remaining my son's widow and no longer. The remainder thereof to be to the children of my son JOHN deceased, born of the body of the said EUNICE, viz.: JOHN, JUSTIN, EUNICE, RHODA and AMELIA, in manner following, viz.: To the said JOHN ELY, son of my son JOHN deceased, and of said EUNICE, the remainder of two-sixth parts in common and undivided of the said lands and premises, to have and to hold to him, his heirs and assigns forever, to his and their only proper use, benefit and behoof forever.

And to the said JUSTIN, the remainder of one-sixth part of the said land and premises, to have and to hold the same, to him the said JUSTIN, his heirs and assigns forever, to his and their only proper use, benefit and behoof forever. And to the said EUNICE, RHODA and AMELIA, my grand daughters aforesaid, each the remainder of one-sixth part of the said lands and premises in common and undivided, to them their heirs and assigns, to have and to hold the same to them respectively and to their respective heirs and assigns forever, to the sole use, benefit and behoof them, their heirs and assigns respectively, all as good absolute estates of inheritance in fee. And I, the said JOHN ELY, for me, my heirs, executors and administrators, do hereby covenant and agree to and with the said EUNICE that she and her assigns, shall or may lawfully, quietly and peacably have, hold, occupy and enjoy the said demised and bargained premises during the aforesaid term, and that I am the lawful owner thereof, before and until the execution of this present deed, and also I do covenant for me, my heirs, executors and administrators, to and with the said EUNICE, her heirs, executors and administrators, that her said children, the said JOHN, JUSTIN, EUNICE, RHODA and AMELIA, shall and may have, hold, enjoy the estate of remainder of the said lands and premises in the several proportions, to them respectively granted as aforesaid, to them, their heirs and assigns forever, and that free and clear of all incumbrances whotsoever, and that I will at any time or times hereafter on their request and at their charge, make and execute to them any other instrument of conveyance for the better assurance and securing to them respectively, the said estate to them hereby conveyed, according to the true intent and meaning of this present, that may be reasonably devised, advised and required so as nothing in such assurance shall extend or comprize any further warranty or covenant than in this present deed are contained.

In Witness Whereof, I, the said JOHN ELY, have hereunto set my hand and seal this sixth day of April, in the 30th year of his Majesties Reign, Annoque Domini, 1757.

Signed, sealed and delivered in presence of
NATHANIEL ATCHINSON,
LEVI ELY,
NATHAN ELY.

AN ELEGY ON THE DEATH OF

Mr. Jonathan Ely,

Deacon of the Church of Christ, in Springfield at Long Meadow, who departed this life, July 27, Annoque Domini 1753. In the 71*st year of his age.*

PROV. X. 7. The memory of the just is blessed. REV. XIV. 13. Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord.

WHAT Cloud is this o'erspreads the Skies?
Or gloomy Exhalations rise, ‡
In sable Curtains hide the sun,
Just as he had his Race begun.
The Morn was bright, serene and clear,
No Storm, nor Tempest, did appear;
Then suddenly, the News was spread,
The mournful News, Ely is dead.
Well might the Sun be hid awhile,
Under a dark and dismal Vail;
Well might the Heav'ns, be o'erspread,
To mourn this precious Saint of GOD,
And ye surviving mortals too,
Which did his Grace and Vertue know,
Come drop a Fun'ral Tear and Sigh,
Perpetuate his Memory,
Speak Muse unerring, you have known,
How in the Church's Orb he shone;
And well adorned his Office State,
Have seen his Tears when he did wait,
Upon the Table of the Lord,
A humble Saint around his Board,
Dispensing Wisdom's rich Provision,
The Bread and Wine, the Lord has given;
Those dear Memorials of his Death,
To purchase Life, and free from Wrath,
Let Age declare how from his Youth,
He walked in the Ways of Truth;
And by his bright Example set,
A shining Pattern for their Feet,
Early he turn'd to Wisdom's Ways,
And ne'er forsook them all his Days;
A blameless Walk and Conversation,
Adorn'd his Life in ev'ry Station.
How Holy, Just, and Temp'rate too,
How free from Vanity and Shew;
Yet condescending, cheerful, free,
Unstain'd, without Hypocrisy.
A tender Father, Husband kind,
A courteous Neighbor, loving Friend;
Made up of Peace and Charity,
Unasked, forgave an Injury.
When just Occasion did present,
Tender of the true Penitent;
His holy Soul would melt and flow
In Tears of Love and sacred Joy.

His Principles were sound and good,
He sought Salvation thro' Christ's Blood.
The Doctrine of GOD'S Sovereignty
And absolute Supremacy;
The wretched State of fallen Man,
His Need to be renew'd again;
Throughout the Soul, in ev'ry part,
Were Doctrines much upon his Heart.
For he no Doubt had felt their Power,
In some Divine refreshing Hour;
And perseveringly he grew,
In Virtue, Grace, and Knowledge, too;
While viewing here from Pisgah's top
The Lord at last has call'd him up,
To take Possession of his Hope.

Mourn and lament this Church of GOD,
A Father taken from your Head;
His Services with Thanks record,
Unto our great and gracious Lord;
Who crowned his Servant with such Grace,
So long preserv'd him in the Place;
A Blessing to the Church of GOD,
Where to his dying Day he stood:
A Mirror, bright before our Eyes;
Now reigns and shines above the Skies.
Nor was his Service here confin'd;
The publick Trust he long sustain'd,
Discharged with great Fidelity,
Your Records kept most faithfully.†

Muse, speak a Word of Sympathy
Unto the mournful Family;
Your Loss, tho' Great, to him is Gain,
Which may Asswage your Grief and Pain.
Cease then your Tears, dry up your Eyes,
Let no tumultuous Passion rise;
Mourn for your Friend, you may, 'tis just,
But moderate your Grief, you must.
Restrain Excess, bound Sorrow up;
For you don't mourn, without a Hope.
Now Husband, Father, Friend, is gone,
Let GOD be all to you in one.
Well may you all rejoice in this,
Your Friend is gone to endless Bliss:
Has chang'd a mortal State below,
A State of Sorrow, Sin and Woe,
For Realms of Joy, Delight and Love,
In the clear view of GOD above;
To spend a long Eternity,
In Saints', and Angels' Company;
In praising GOD, unitedly.

‡ 'Tis remarkable, the morning he died, the heavens were suddenly overspread with smoak, which continued several days.

† He served in the office of Precinct Clerk, more than thirty years. And many years treasurer.

JONATHAN ELY, son of Deacon Jonathan, (No. 17), was born in Longmeadow, Mass., July 25, 1714, and died at Wilbraham, Mass., December 29, 1812.

He married, November 27, 1740, ESTHER, daughter of Henry and Mary (Gurnsey) CHAPIN, who was born March 11, 1717, at Springfield, and died at Wilbraham, November 29, 1805.

The following is a copy of an obituary notice:

"Died, at Wilbraham, Massachusetts, on the 29th ult. (December 29, 1812), Mr. Jonathan Ely, in the 99th year of his age. Mr. Ely was a native of the town of Longmeadow, and removed in early life to Wilbraham, where he lived 72 years in the same house, and 65 with the wife of his youth. Of 9 children 6 survive to mourn his loss; 42 grandchildren, 61 great grand chidren remain, 14 deceased, who can with assurance be ascertained by the connections. One branch of the family, residing at a distance, and not having been recently heard from, the real number is probably greater, amounting to 123 (126?) descendants, a considerable portion of whom followed him to his grave. Mr. Ely was the last surviving male member of the original church, which was formed in Wilbraham, and who assisted in the settlement of the first minister (Mr. Merrick.) He was the venerable patriarch of a numerous progeny—the industrious peaceable citizen—the honest man, and the exemplary christian. His religious faith and hope were his consolation in life and his support in death. Possessing a sound mind in a sound body, he enjoyed an excellent state of health, and a comfortable flow of spirits till within a few weeks of his death, when he sank gradually under the decay of age. His animal machine was so nicely balanced, that aided by his exemplary and temperate way of living, no part of it failed before the other, a temporary defect in his hearing only excepted, but all at last gave way at once, and he was gathered unto his people in a good old age, as a shock of corn fully ripe cometh in in its season. With the utmost propriety shall the just be had in everlasting remembrance, for they are truly the pillars of the church and the strength of the nation

Levi Ely

LEVI ELY, called CAPTAIN LEVI, son of SAMUEL, (No. 30), was born in West Springfield, Mass., November 26, 1732, and was killed by the Indians in a battle on the Mohawk river, a little east of Utica, N. Y., October 19, 1780. He left home in charge of a company, on a short expedition against the Indians, all being his townsmen and neighbors, and they were nearly all killed only a few days before their term of service expired. CAPTAIN ELY lived in West Springfield, at the foot of the hill, near the old Congregational church. All his children were born there, and lived and died in West Springfield, except his daughter Lucretia, and his son Elihu.

He married in West Springfield, October 12, 1758, ABIGAIL, daughter of LIEUTENANT JOHN and ABIGAIL (Jones) SERGEANT, born in Northfield, Mass., January 26, 1729, and died in West Springfield, October 3, 1812. Lieutenant John Sergeant was one of Captain Josiah Willard's company at Fort Dummer, near the present town of Brattleboro, Vt., in 1748, in the old French and Indian war. The following account of his death is taken from Temple & Sheldon's history of Northfield, Mass:

"1748, March 29, Lieut. John Sergeant, his son Daniel, Moses Cooper, Joshua Wells and another, started from Fort Dummer down the scout path to Colrain, for the purpose of cutting some ash timber for oars and paddles. When a little more than a mile from the fort, they were fired upon by an ambush of 12 or 15 Indians. Moses Cooper was mortally wounded at the first fire, but managed with the help of a comrade to reach the fort. Lieut. Sergeant and the two others retreated slowly, firing as they went. The woods were thick and the savages well covered. Wells was soon killed. The Lieut. encouraged his son with the assurance that help would be sent them from the fort; dared the skulking enemy to come out and fight like men, and firing as often as an Indian showed himself. When near the fort, Lieut. S. was killed and his son taken captive."

Struck thro' with wounds, all honest on the breast."

"In memory of MRS. ABIGAIL ELY, Relect of CAPT. LEVI ELY, who died 3rd Oct., 1812, aged 75 years.

Afflictions sore, long time I bore,
Till God was pleased, to give me ease

Copy of inscriptions on monument in cemetery, Windsor, Conn.:

"ROGER NEWBERRY, ESQ.,
Was born June 30, A. D. 1735,
and after having sustained
with honor to himself
and advantage to the Public,
many of the most important
Offices
In the gift of the State,
Died
on the 13 of February,
A. D. 1814,
Respected, honored and esteemed
Through life.
In death he was an example
of resignation
And confidence in the merits of his Redeemer.

Death is the crown of life.
Were death deny'd, poor man would live in vain;
Were death deny'd, to live would not be life;
Were death deny'd, ev'n fools would wish to die.
Death, wounds to cure; we fall; we rise; we reign;
Spring from our fetters, fasten in the skies;
Where blooming Eden withers in our sight,
Death gives us more than was in Eden lost."

"EUNICE NEWBERRY,
wife of
THE HON. ROGER NEWBERRY, was born
Aug. 29, A. D. 1741,
and died
Aug. 23, A. D. 1813.

She was an Almoner to the poor,
And the good were her friends;
Few have lived more beloved,
None have died more regretted.

To the memory
of the best of Parents,
Filial piety
Has erected
This Monument.

The following "In Memoriam" is copied from the Springfield Republican:

"To the Editor: "At Longmeadow, 30th, (December 1872), Hannah Ely, 80," was one of your announcements the other morning under the head of deaths. To those who knew Longmeadow thirty or forty years ago it will have a meaning, and awaken sentiments of respect and of tender interest which the present generation cannot be expected to feel. It brings to the mind 'the old Ely place,' a little above the church, on the right; the large three-story gambrel-roof brick house, covered with vines in summer; a house that has stood there for the best part of a century, and where Miss Ely has lived all her life, even if she were not born there; the place where Deacon Ethan Ely, her father, used to entertain so many ministers, and with such generous hospitality; where one was sure to meet all the principal men of that period, the grandfathers of the Blisses, and Burts, and Coltons of the present day; where the mother died early, and this daughter, with so much dignity and grace, succeeded to the head of the household, and of whom the good deacon used to say, 'he thought the world of Hannah.' All this, and even so much more, will be suggested by that brief notice to those who were acquainted with the community years ago. Miss Ely was the first preceptress of Monson Academy. She was better educated than most women of her day, and with her noble character and most agreeable manners, she must have filled that position well, as she did every position where Providence placed her.

"In Longmeadow she was not only everything to her father's family, but an invaluable member to the community, to whose welfare she was devoted, and of the church she loved so well. She was one of the first sabbath school teachers, and entered upon that work full fifty years ago, when such instruction had scarcely been heard of. She was a special friend to the poor and unfortunate, and her genuine sympathy and generous, unostentatious charities will always lead many to remember tenderly 'Miss Hannah.'

"She was a thoroughly christian woman, devoted to her Master, and possessing much of His spirit. She belonged to that class of women who, though they never marry, possess the finest domestic characters, and do so much to make the homes of others happy,—real 'Sisters of Charity'—who, without withdrawing from society or disparaging marriage, with worthy attractions, and often property, and with all a woman's nature, relinquish a home of their own, out of duty to parents and kindred, or because Providence has already marked out for them some special sphere of usefulness: and who shall say they are not as truly saintly as those who 'have taken the veil,' either as the brides of men or the brides of heaven? It is not every saint who is canonized by the church, but we imagine that in God's book will be found a long list of this class whose worth is too poorly appreciated by us.

"As David, 'after he had served his own generation by the will of God, fell asleep and was laid with his fathers,' so this good woman will be laid to her rest to-day in the old burying-ground at Longmeadow, where so much sacred dust is entombed. We lay this sprig of ivy on her grave as a slight tribute to her memory.

"Springfield, January 2, 1873." S. G. B.

The following obituary is given as a special dispatch to the Chicago Tribune, from Dixon, Ill., Feb'y 5, 1881:

"Another of our most widely known and universally beloved citizens, Quartus Ely, familiarly known as Deacon Ely, answered to-day to the long roll-call, aged 71 years. Mr. Ely settled in this city as a merchant about thirty years ago, and has been actively identified with our commercial and public interests for many years. He was a stockholder and director in the Lee County National Bank. Nearly two years since, he attended at Holyoke, Mass., a family gathering of the Elys, at which meeting over 600 of this family—one of the most noted in New England, were in attendance. At his time of life the trip proved too much for him and since that re-union his life to the hour of his decease has been slowly ebbing away. Mr. Ely was not only descended from patriotic stock, but he himself was a patriot of the truest type. During the late war he made a vow he never would vote for any man for any office, high or low, whose position toward the country was either doubtful or questionable. This pledge he kept strenuously to the day of his death.

The remains will be taken for interment to Holyoke, where the bones of his ancestors way back to colonial times repose."

LEWIS ELY, son of THOMAS, (No. 114), was born in West Springfield, Mass., December 9, 1756. He married, October 23, 1777, ANNA GRANGER, and after a residence of nine years in West Springfield they moved to Granville, Mass., where he purchased and cleared a farm, and built a saw mill and a grist mill. The grist mill was burned and another built. In the spring of 1799 he exchanged his property in Granville for lands in Ohio; started with his family June 12, 1799, with ox-teams, and arrived at Deerfield, Portage county, Ohio, on the 25th of July, having been preceded by Lewis Day and his son Horatio, from Granby, Conn., with Moses Tibbals and Green Frost, from Granville, Mass., who left their homes early in May, 1799, and arrived in Deerfield the 29th of the same month. Much suffering was experienced on account of the scarcity of provisions. They were supplied from settlements in Pennsylvania, the nearest of which was Georgetown, 40 miles distant. On the 7th of November, 1800, the first marriage occurred. John Campbell and Sarah Ely, daughter of Lewis, were joined in wedlock by Calvin Austin, Esq., of Warren. He was accompanied from Warren, a distance of twenty-seven miles by the late Judge Pease, then a young lawyer of that place. They performed the journey on foot, there being no road, and as they threaded their way through the woods, young Pease taught the justice the marriage ceremony by frequent repetition.

Here Lewis Ely cleared up the farm on which he lived until his death, September 5, 1826. Mrs. Ely survived her husband more than ten years, and died in Deerfield, March 21, 1837. They were buried in the cemetery in Deerfield, the land having been given to the township by Mr. Ely.

He never married. He received a collegiate education at Hamilton, N. Y., and was admitted to the bar at Rochester. He presently relinquished the practice of the law to engage in the construction of the pioneer lines of telegraph between Pittsburgh and Philadelphia, and between Cleveland and Buffalo. He then engaged in building the first section of railroad between Cleveland and Buffalo, which was the germ of the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern Railroad line. In 1852 he undertook the building a line of railroad from the newly discovered iron mines of Marquette county, to Marquette on Lake Superior, in which he was joined by his brothers John F., George H. and S. P. Ely. The country was an unbroken wilderness; the St. Marys Falls ship canal was not finished, and he encountered many obstacles. The project was deemed visionary and impracticable, but he persevered, until, just on the eve of the completion of the railroad, he died without warning, of an organic affection of the brain. It was said of him in a historical address at Marquette in 1876:

"He was a man of prophetic insight, who saw the end from the beginning, and counted for nothing all intervening obstacles and postponements; and did his work to the day of his death."

His remains were removed to Rochester, N. Y., and now rest in Mt. Hope Cemetery. It has been proposed that they should be returned to Marquette, where his best life-work was done and where he died. This may yet be done.

county, New Jersey, February 21, 1872. Her remains were deposited by the side her deceased husband in Mount Hope Cemetery in Rochester, N. Y. In November, 1813, Hervey Ely cast his lot with the pioneers of Rochester. Bringing men and supplies from Massachusetts, he, with his brother Elisha, erected a saw mill, and in 1817 they built a flouring mill with four run of stone. He afterwards built a larger mill, which bore his name for many years, and he was long and prominently engaged in that business. He also took an active part in connection with the late Henry O'Reilly, in the construction of some of the earliest telegraph lines, and in connection with his nephews in the development of the Lake Superior iron ore industry. The following passage is taken from one of the works of the late Lewis H. Morgan. Speaking of Mr. Ely, he says:

"I cannot mention the name of my venerable and noble friend, now deceased, without expressing my high appreciation of his great abilities, of his genial and unselfish nature, and of his liberal and enlightened sentiments. He will be favorably remembered as one of the great men of his day and generation. He established himself in Rochester in 1813, where he engaged extensively in manufacturing and commercial enterprises, in which he continued till 1861, when he retired from business. It was my privilege to know him intimately for twenty years; and this passing tribute to his memory is founded on a personal knowledge of his worth."

Mr. and Mrs. Ely had no children of their own, but adopted and educated a large number.

Sprague*, late of Albany, N. Y., formerly pastor of the First Congregational Church in West Springfield, in an obituary of her, says:

"It is rare to meet with a person who has so many excellencies, and so few defects of natural constitution as she had; but besides this, christianity had performed upon her a thoroughly transforming work, moulding her naturally beautiful qualities into a type of heavenly purity and loveliness."

HEMAN ELY, son of JUSTIN, (No. 130), was born in West Springfield, Mass., April 24, 1775, and died in Elyria, Ohio, February 2, 1852.

Early in this century he became interested in the purchase of lands in central and western New York, and under his direction considerable tracts were surveyed and sold to settlers. Nearly coincident with these enterprises he entered into partnership with his brother Theodore in New York City, and was for ten years engaged in commerce with European countries and the East Indies.

During this time he made several voyages, visiting England, Holland, France and Spain, mainly in the prosecution of his business, yet, as we see from his journals, he gained much from his close observation of men and manners.

In France he remained long enough to acquire the language, for that purpose separating himself from pleasant friends and living wholly in French families. He was in Paris from July, 1809, till April, 1810, a period when history was rapidly made. He saw in August, 1809, the grand fête of Napoleon with Josephine as Emperess, and in the evening attended a ball at the Hotel de Ville where a cotillion was danced by a sett composed of kings and queens; the following April (Josephine divorced and dethroned) he witnessed the formal entrance into Paris of the Emperor Napoleon with the Emperess Maria Louise, of Austria, and the religious ceremony of marriage at the chapel of the Tuilleries.

At that time Europe was all under arms and it was no easy matter to pass from country to country, but Mr. Ely seems to have been ready for any emergency or adventure, running the blockade, shot at by privateers or sailing in tiny fishing boats when all commercial intercourse between the countries was strictly forbidden. Accompanied by only one friend, Mr. Chas. R. Codman, of Boston, he took passage from England to Holland in a Dutch fishing boat, gendarmes patrolled the coast of Holland, and fired upon their little boat as they tried to land; they waited until later in the night, when they were quietly landed on the shores of an unknown country, neither of the gentlemen knowing a word of the Dutch language. For eight weary miles they carried their baggage, avoiding towns and fine mansions, till they found a peasant willing to give them food and to care for their baggage. They then walked to Rotterdam and soon found means to send a servant into the country for their baggage which the peasant had buried in the sand lest his house should be searched by officers. The travelers were closely questioned at Antwerp and other places, but finally reached Paris on the 9th day of July, 1809.

During their stay in Paris they were one morning ordered from their beds to the police court on suspicion of speaking ill of Napoleon, but after some delay and annoyances were released. Spies were everywhere and caution and courage were necessary.

In 1810 Mr. Ely returned to America. The following year he visited Ohio, going as far west as Cleveland, twenty-five miles east of his future home. He speaks of a steamboat on the Hudson river as a matter of especial note. Most of his journey was performed on horseback. He returned to New England by Niagara Falls, the St. Lawrence and Montreal.

The war with England made it unadvisable to open new territory in Ohio, and it was not until 1816 that Mr. Ely visited the land owned by his father and then known as No. 6, Range 17, Connecticut Western Reserve. At that time he made arrangements for future settlement, contracting for a grist and saw-mill and a log cabin to be completed early in the following year.

In February, 1817, accompanied by his step-brother, Ebenezer Lane, late Chief Justice of Ohio, and attended by a considerable company of skilled workmen and laborers, he left West Springfield for his future home.

Mr. Ely and Mr. Lane rode in a stout, covered wagon, the others walked or rode on the ox cart which carried provisions and implements, and on the 17th of March forded the stream called Black river, and took possession of the log cabin. The site chosen was high land lying between the two branches of the river, on each of which was a fall of forty feet, affording water-power, very desirable in a country usually so level as northern Ohio.

Heman Ely

The first frame house in Elyria, Ohio.

Built by HEMAN ELY in 1818.

Mr. Ely immediately called the new town Elyria, and from that time gave his life to the development of its resources. In 1818 several houses were built, the largest being Mr. Ely's own home, in which his son still lives, and the Beebe Tavern on the opposite side of Broad street. Up to this time Mr. Ely had lived a bachelor, but he now brought a bride to his western home.

The little town soon gathered inhabitants, and in 1818 felt itself entitled to a postoffice. Six years later a new county was formed to which Mr. Ely gave the name of Lorain, Elyria being the shire town. It was during this year, 1824, that the first church of Christ was organized; and the services of a pastor, Rev. Daniel W. Lathrop, secured. The Sabbath had not been allowed to pass unobserved during these years. Mr. Ely had collected the members of the little colony and read to them a sermon, while he asked one of the professing christians to offer prayer.

He valued christian institutions and contributed liberally toward their maintenance, although not himself a member of any church until 1841, when the reading of a "Child's Book on Repentance," by the Rev. Thomas H. Gallandet, wrought a vital change in his personal experience.

In laying out the town Mr. Ely arranged for broad intersecting streets and ample public grounds, assigning suitable lots on opposite sides of the square or park for a church and school-house. He subsequently erected a building for a high school in a more retired locality, and built a commodious house for the principal that boarding pupils from the surrounding country might be accommodated, thus securing at an early day educational advantages for the community.

He was especially fond of horticulture, and in the summer spent much of his time in his garden where he collected the choicest varieties of vegetables, trees and vines and from whence he freely distributed to all who desired them.

Mr. Ely's efforts were not confined to his own town. He served on the State Board of Equalization in 1831-32, and was from 1835 to 1845 one of the Associate Judges under the old State Constitution.

From an article in the Springfield Republican, published soon after his death, we copy the following words which may be regarded as an impartial tribute to his memory. After stating some of the facts given above, the writer says:

"Mr. Ely was a Federalist of the school of George Cabot, Harrison Gray Otis and Thomas Handyside Perkins. About two years ago he visited his friends in Massachusetts and Connecticut, where he bid them an affectionate and final farewell, as he expected to see them no more.

"The chequred, eventful, everchanging scenes of a busy life has closed upon him forever. He was a firm believer in the great truths of the christian system and for several years a professor of religion.

"He was a patriot indeed, and highly distinguished for sagacious enterprise and active benevolence, and his whole career evinced that the refined, beneficient and social qualities of life, through all its forms, were so happily modified and united in him that in the words of Nature's greatest poet it may be said:

"His life was gentle and the elements
So mixed in him that Nature might stand up
And say to all the world, 'this was a man.'"

Heman Ely married in West Springfield, Mass., October 9, 1818, CELIA, daughter of COLONEL EZEKIEL PORTER BELDEN, and his second wife, MARY (Parsons). She was born in Wethersfield, Conn., October 5, 1796, and died at Elyria, Ohio, January 7, 1827. He married in Mansfield, Conn., August 20, 1828, HARRIET M., daughter of GENERAL JOHN SALTER, born in Mansfield, Conn., March 20, 1792, and died in Elyria, Ohio, August 6, 1846. He married in Elyria, Ohio, December 7, 1846, MRS. CYNTHIA SERGEANT, widow of JOHN SERGEANT, of Stockbridge, Mass., and daughter of DR. JEREMIAH and AMELIA (Ely) WEST, of Tolland, Conn., where she was born July 21, 1791, and died in Hartford, Conn., August 5, 1871.

NOAH ELY, son of NOAH, (No. 137), was born in Hancock, Mass., October 13, 1784, and died in New Berlin, Chenango county, N. Y., March 6, 1871. He graduated at Williams College, studied law, and settled in New Berlin, where he practiced his profession nearly sixty years. The following extract is taken from an obituary notice:

"He was a lawyer of standing, ability, and rare learning. Lawyers are usually so much occupied with their profession, that literature is not among their pursuits. Mr. Ely, however, was a scholar; a man of great reading, much scientific research and general knowledge both of books and men, and withal, a pure-minded christian gentleman. He was one of the founders of the Episcopal Church in New Berlin. For many years vestryman and warden of said church, and one of its most trusted counselors. Everybody valued Noah Ely, none knew him but to love him. He several times represented his party in the assembly, at a time when the state needed men of character, and he bore himself there with credit to himself and his constituents."

He married in Norwich, N. Y., August 10, 1812, ELIZABETH, daughter of BENJAMIN and LYDIA (Bushnell) BIRDSALL, born in Hillsdale, Columbia county, N. Y., November —, 1790, and died in New Berlin, N. Y., November 5, 1877.

WILLIAM FERGUSON ELY, son of ABNER, (No. 142), was born near Smyrna, Del., March 3, 1781, and died in Chillicothe, Ohio, January 14, 1839.

When sixteen years of age he ran away from home to see the world. While in Philadelphia he was decoyed on board a British man-of-war by a British officer. While in service he succeeded in making his eyes so sore by rubbing tobacco in them that temporary blindness ensued and he was taken to a hospital from which he made his escape. After traveling some time he came to a settlement where there was an American vessel in port on which he took passage and was landed in Florida. Here his progress was retarded by taking small-pox. There was visible on his back two long, deep scars made by a rowel which was used as treatment while he was sick at the hospital.

He was an intensely religious man, and for sixteen years before his death public services were held in his house, there being no place of worship nearer than six or eight miles. He was a farmer and connected with the M. E. Church.

His first wife was MARY CRUMPTON, whom he married in Delaware. She died near Lebanon, Warren county, Ohio.

REV. ALFRED ELY, D. D., son of WILLIAM, (No. 157), was born in West Springfield, Mass., Nov. 8, 1778, and died in Monson, Mass., July 6, 1866. The following extracts are copied from obituary notices:

"Rev. Alfred Ely, D. D., of Monson, died at his residence at half past one o'clock Friday morning. He retired to rest the evening previous in his usual health, was seized suddenly with distressing illness, and died in half an hour after the attack. He had long been feeble, and confined to his house and chiefly to his room, by the infirmities of age, and died in his eighty-eighth year.

Leaving his paternal home at the age of fifteen, he became a clerk in a store, first at Springfield and then at Hartford, when in 1798 during a revival of religion he gave himself to Christ. He began his preparation for the ministry at twenty-one; all his pecuniary resources amounted to only $14. He began the study of Latin grammar, January 1, 1800, and in October, 1802, he entered the junior class in Princeton College, where in a class of men of great ability he graduated with honorable rank in 1804, and was immediately elected a tutor in that college where he remained one year. He then returned to West Springfield and studied divinity with the pastor of his youth, the celebrated Dr. Lathrop, of that place. He was licensed to preach in February, 1806, and in June of that year, preached his first sermon at Monson. After preaching twenty-one Sabbaths as a candidate, he was ordained December 17, 1806, and was pastor of the Congregational Church until his death, nearly sixty years. His pastorate was as remarkable for its success as for its great length. Living always in one place of service, which he never desired to leave, he became identified with all its interests, ecclesiastical and temporal.

He was a trustee of the Monson Academy from 1807 until his death. He was one of the earliest trustees of Amherst College, and in that office assisted in sustaining the institution in all the difficulties and discouragements of its early history. He was elected in 1840 a corporate member of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, and in that great enterprise was always an ardent and efficient helper.

It is not a little remarkable, that two of the oldest and best known pastors of Hampden county, Dr. Davis, of Westfield, and Dr. Ely, should be taken away so near each other, and it is still more singular that both should die so suddenly, with but brief illness and warning of the approach of death.

The funeral services of Dr. Ely made Monday a marked day for the people of Monson. At three o'clock P. M. numerous clergymen from abroad assembled with particular friends at the old parsonage, where an appropriate prayer was offered by the associate pastor, Rev. T. G. Colton. At the church, the devotional services were conducted by Rev. Messrs. Colton, Parsons, of Springfield, and Harding, of Longmeadow. Appropriate dirges were sung with touching expressiveness by the village choir. Dr. Vail, of Palmer, preached the sermon, from Acts, 13 : 36 —. 'For David, after he had served his own generation, by the will of God, fell on sleep.' The life of a faithful minister as serving his own generation, and serving it by the will of God, as his rule and inspiration, was set forth in terms fitly portraying the history and character of Dr. Ely. The peculiar fitness of the discourse was enhanced by the fact that the preacher had been for more that fifty years a neighbor and intimate personal friend."

Mr. Ely married, February 16, 1806, NANCY HINSDALE, of Hartford, Conn., born August 12, 1778, and died in Monson, July 15, 1812. He married, January 25, 1814, LUCINDA, daughter of HON. TIMOTHY NEWELL, of Sturbridge, Mass., born February 6, 1781, and died December 29, 1823. He married, January 13, 1825, SUSAN, daughter of REV. URIEL GRIDLEY, of Watertown, Conn., born May 19, 1788, and died September 16, 1863.

ABIGAIL ELY, daughter of CAPT. ETHAN, (No. 194), was born in Longmeadow, Mass., December 20, 1794, and died in South Hadley, Mass., April 26, 1826. Her tombstone bears the following inscription:

"To the memory of ABIGAIL E., wife of REV. ARTEMAS BOIES, and daughter of ETHAN ELY, ESQ., of Longmeadow, who died April 26, 1826, aged, 31.

While feeble nature | Drops a mournful tear,
Religion better taught, | Smiles at the grave
Of saints beloved, | And crowns their dust | With life immortal."

She married in Longmeadow, October 10, 1821, REV. ARTEMAS, son of DAVID and DOROTHA (Blair) BOIES, born in Blandford, Mass., September 8, 1792, and died in New London, Conn., September 25, 1844. The following sketch is by his son, William E. Boies:

Rev. Artemas Boies, seventh son of David and Dorotha Boies, whose entire family numbered eleven children, was born in Blandford, Mass., Sept. 8, 1792. A frail constitution, unfitting him for the farm life of his father, he was allowed to follow his early bent for study, and at the age of twenty-one he entered the Sophomore class at Williams College, graduating with honor in 1816. The winter following was most pleasantly passed in teaching a select school at Longmeadow, Mass., where he found in a favorite pupil the wife of his first love, Abigail Ely, whom he married soon after his settlement as pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church in Charleston, S. C., whither he was called from the First Church of Wilmington, N. C., over which he was ordained in 1819, a year after leaving the Theological Seminary at Princeton, N. J. His subsequent settlements were at South Hadley, Mass., in Boston, and at New London, Conn., where he died of typhoid fever, soon after passing his fifty-second birthday, and in the fourth year of his pastorate of the Second Congregational Church in that city. His active ministry of little more than twenty-five years, though changeful, developed rare qualities as preacher and pastor, all fittingly summed up in the epitaph on the monument reared by a bereaved people to his memory, "Speaking the truth in love."

OBITUARY.

"The veteran educator and worthy citizen, William C. Goldthwait, died in Longmeadow, Saturday night. He was born in 1816, son of Erastus and Hannah Colton Goldthwait, his maternal ancestry dating back through six generations to George Colton, one of the original founders of Longmeadow. While working on his father's farm, his pastor, Jonathan B. Condit, discerned his bright promise, and encouraged him to pursue a liberal education. He entered Amherst College, but was compelled by weakness of eyes to leave his course unfinished. Having taught for a while in Richmond, Va., and Elizabeth, N. J., he became associated with Rev. Hubbard Beebe, in the charge of Westfield Academy, afterward becoming sole principal for several years. He then returned to the old homestead in Longmeadow, where he established a family school for boys. After a successful engagement in this sphere for fourteen years, he retired in 1868, and since then has been mostly confined to his home by gradually decaying health. He was a thoroughly original character, of marked peculiarities, both in person and address, an alert and stimulating teacher, as a writer and speaker, bright, witty, quaint and striking, both in thought and expression, a lover of nature and poetry, greatly fond of good books and good people, extending his research beyond his vocation into various sciences and particularly that of agriculture. He married Julia Hebard, of Lebanon, Conn., who survives him with two daughters."

JOSEPH ELY, son of JOSEPH, (No. 255), was born in West Springfield, Mass., July 3, 1804, and died in Holyoke, Mass., September 27, 1869. An obituary in the "HOLYOKE TRANSCRIPT" states the manner of death and estimate of the character of Dea. Joseph Ely:

"Another old landmark gone. Died suddenly, at Holyoke, Mass., Sept. 27, 1869, Dea. Joseph Ely, aged sixty-five. Up to the moment of his death, Mr. Ely had been in the enjoyment of his usual health. With accustomed thoughtfulness he had arranged the domestic affairs of his household for the day, and repaired to his place of business unconscious that our common enemy was following so closely on his footsteps. After giving the necessary orders for the day, and while reading his morning paper, 'the cold hand' was laid upon him, the current of life was chilled and he was called to his account. Mr. Ely was born July 3, 1804. His father was one of the original settlers of this part of the old town of West Springfield and owned a farm of about eighty acres, one-half of which embraced the territory now occupied by the Hadley Corporation, and the other half, that tract more recently known as the Bowers and Mosher purchase, with the exception of the old homestead, which is still retained in the family. At the age of eighteen Mr. Ely left his father's farm and commenced his career as a boatman on the river. Subsequently he formed a co-partnership with the Messrs. Bardwell, of South Hadley Falls, and Peletick Ely, of this town, under the title of Bardwell, Ely & Co., and for several years the firm controlled the transportation of freights between points above and below on the Connecticut. The termination of this co-partnership affords a fitting illustration of that devotion to principle which characterized his life. After his profession of faith in the christian religion, he was always a conscientious observer of all the duties which that faith imposes, and amongst these he regarded a strict observance of the Sabbath which he was unable to reconcile with the labors of a boatman. In consequence of this conviction, he withdrew from the firm and entered the employ of the canal company as pilot over the Willimansett Rapids. This experience gave him an intimate knowledge of the rapids at this point of the river, which has since been called into service in times of danger, the last instance of his skill and courage in braving the rapids in a boat occurring within the last two years, during the search for the bodies of the unfortunate men who were carried over the dam.

In the year 1848 he associated himself with Messrs. Newton Day and Austin Ely, his brother, under the firm name of Day, Ely & Co., and engaged in the lumber business. This firm built and occupied the building now known as the Ferry Paper Mill, and continued the business until 1864. For the past four years he has been engaged in the grocery business in this town. Dea. Ely was one of the original members of the Second Baptist Church, and has always given evidence of high toned christian character and a spirit of benevolence and liberality.

During the dark days of 1857, when financial clouds overshadowed that church, he was the first to respond to the emergency, and stating in parish meeting the amount of his own fortune, generously offered to guarantee the debt of the church to the full extent of his property.

Time rolls his ceaseless course. The race of yore
That danced our infancy upon their knee,
And told our wondering boyhood legends' store,
Of their strange ventures happ'd by land or sea,
How are they blotted from the things that be.

Mr. Ely was one of the land marks of the old order of things. He came from a stock distinguished for uprightness and integrity, and did honor to his origin.

The places of business closed, the streets deserted, the crowd of mourners in the funeral train proclaim the love and esteem in which he was held by this community, and the honor deemed his due."

The following is from the "HOLYOKE WEEKLY MIRROR" of December 1, 1855:

"PERILOUS ADVENTURE AND MIRACULOUS ESCAPE."

"On Monday evening Holyoke was the scene of a fearful accident, which however, was not attended with serious results. As David Gleason, Timothy Crowly and John Barry were crossing the river above the dam in a small boat, one of the row-locks broke, and in spite of their efforts the boat was carried over the dam about midway of the river. The boat struck the water apparently about two rods in front of the fallen sheet, rebounded about half that distance and sank. The men were washed down the rapids for several rods, when one of them seized hold of and clung to a rock, while his companions secured a footing on another rock farther down the stream. The upper one becoming fatigued, loosed his hold and washed down to the others. The accident was witnessed by several individuals who gave the alarm at Holyoke and South Hadley Falls. A large crowd immediately collected, and as it became dark bonfires were kindled on either shore. It was considered impossible that they should be rescued, but it was determined that they should not perish until an effort, at least, was made to save them. A large flat-bottomed boat was procured on the Holyoke side, of which Joseph Ely took the command, and Samuel Ely, Austin Ely, J. Moseley Smith, (their nephew,) Newton Day, Isaac Hadley and Levi Dickinson, volunteered to accompany him. As soon as the rising moon had dissipated in some small degree the darkness, the boat shoved off. In twenty-five minutes they returned; when they reached the shore, and the announcement was made that the men were safe on board, the air rung with cheers. The escape of the men is little short of miraculous. Too much credit cannot be given to the brave men who accomplished the rescue. They did it at the risk of their own lives, and we shall be proud that we have such men among us."

Joseph Ely married, January 6, 1831, SARAH, daughter of CAPT. CALVIN and ANNA (Brown) GOODMAN, born in South Hadley, Mass., May 23, 1808, and died September 12, 1834. He married in Springfield, Mass., December 1, 1835, where she was born September 20, 1808, RUTH, daughter of ABEL and CHLOE (Frink) ATTLETON. She died in Holyoke, June 28, 1876.

SAMUEL ELY, son of JOSEPH, (No. 255), was born in West Springfield, Mass., October 1, 1806, and died in Holyoke, Mass., August 21, 1879. He was interested in securing a genealogy of his branch of the Ely family, and at his solicitation his niece, Mrs. Amanda Ely Terry, commenced the collection of material for this work, in which she was engaged at the time of her death. The following obituary was published in the "HOLYOKE TRANSCRIPT" on the Saturday, August 23, 1879, following his death:

"Mr. Samuel Ely fell dead upon the sidewalk in front of S. T. Miller's store, on Main street, Thursday forenoon, (Aug. 21st.) a few minutes before twelve o'clock. He made his usual morning round to the bank, stores, and postoffice, had spent some time reading the morning papers in the Hadley Falls Bank, according to his usual custom, and had started home to dinner. He stopped on the way to buy some peaches and had taken out his pocket-book to pay for them, when he threw up his arms and dropped dead without a word. His sudden death was a startling event to the community. He was an old resident, a man of wealth, and a person of many sterling and excellent qualities. He was nearly seventy-three years of age and his entire life had been passed upon the old Ely homestead where he was born. The red farm-house was built by his father, Mr. Joseph Ely, 4th, about ninety years ago. Mr. Samuel Ely was one of nine children, seven of whom lived to adult age. One brother and one sister survive him, Mr. Austin Ely and Miss Cynthia Ely, the former being seventy and the latter eighty-one years of age. An older sister, nearly ninety years of age, died about a year ago.

The Ely farm originally comprised about eighty acres. When the building of Holyoke was commenced thirty years ago, the homestead farm owned by Mr. Ely was worth a few thousand dollars. Mr. Samuel Ely was a quiet, conservative man, strongly attached to his birth-place, and was not carried away by the excitement of modern innovations and improvements. He was in no haste to dispose of his patrimony, but he sold about thirty acres to the Hadley Falls Company, and seven years after sold land to the value of $12,000, one-half of which proceeds with interest he donated to the American Board of Foreign Missions. About twelve years ago he sold the property on Depot Hill, since known as the Bowers & Mosher property, to G. Bowers and R. Mosher for about $40,000. He reserved from the sale the old homestead, where he has continued to reside, and about one acre of land. He seldom went away from home to stay over night, and had not spent a month of his life away from the old homestead. He died possessed of a handsome property estimated at from $50,000 to $70,000.

Mr. Ely's wife died about twenty-five years ago. She was a Miss Chase, sister of Rufus and George Chase, of this city. She died when their only daughter was four months old. The daughter grew to womanhood and is the wife of Mr. Benjamin F. Hawley, Jr., of Bristol, Conn., who is studying for the medical profession. It is not supposed that Mr. Ely has left a will and his wealth will be inherited by his daughter.

Mr. Ely was a man of strong family attachment. He took a great interest in collecting the records of the Ely family, and contributed largely to the recent family gathering of the Elys. It was by his wish and his assistance that his niece, the late Mrs. H. P. Terry, made valuable collections of facts for the Ely Genealogy.

Mr. Ely was not a member of any church, but his life was a christian life. He gave very largely to good objects, the gift of $6,667 to a missionary organization being one of his many generous donations. He was an honest, upright man, doing much good to his fellow men and doing injury to no one. He gave freely of his money, and many instances of his kindness to the widowed and orphaned are remembered.

He leaves the record of an honest, truthful, conscientious man, simple in tastes and habits, who made good use of his honestly acquired wealth. The night before his death Mr. Ely attended the meeting at the gospel tent and remained at the meeting for inquirers. Mr. Ely is the third of his family who has met with sudden death. His mother died suddenly many years ago, and his brother, Joseph, died in 1869 while sitting in his arm chair reading a paper."

SAMUEL ELY married, April 14, 1852, SARAH, daughter of WILLIAM and SUSANNAH (Lawton) CHASE, born in Dummerston, Vt., January 20, 1818, and died in Holyoke, Mass., December 28, 1855.

Eldridge*.

Speeches were made by Deacons Eldridge and Southworth, Rev. N. P. Pierce and by Mr. William Kent, of Brooklyn, N. Y., who presented Mr. Ely an oak leather medal, lettered in gilt and framed in a beautiful oval case, a gift that was intended as a family coat-of-arms to him whose youth and manhood has been spent in pursuing the trade of an honest tanner.

In reply to the presentation remarks Mr. Ely said that he had been an exhibitor of leather at various places, and during his life had been the recipient of several medals for the excellence of his work, and that they had been prized by him, but none of these had in his eyes the value, or would be cherished so proudly as this tender and honorable recognition by his children of the calling that he had for a life time followed, and in closing he remarked, 'It shall be preserved with care for the love my children bear me as the proudest gift of my life.' There was a large gathering and the presents were valuable. Anecdote, story, reminiscence, and the luxury of a good supper chased the evening hours, until the retiring guests paid their parting respects with a shade of sadness on each heart, that on this side the river that parts from the beautiful land, there will not come to this aged couple another golden wedding."

OBITUARY FROM THE "HOLYOKE TRANSCRIPT."

"Died at Ashleyville September 18, 1872, after a long season of suffering, MRS. ANNA KENT ELY, wife of HOMER ELY, in the 75th year of her age.

Although not a resident of this town, the deceased was widely known here, having passed her long life in the neighboring village of Ashleyville, which has become during these latter years, a connecting link between the old town of West Springfield proper, and its more pretentious offspring the present town of Holyoke. The remnant of these old families whose names and traditions date back to the earliest settlement of this portion of Western Massachusetts, are one by one passing away. Of the original Kent stock, and of this branch of the Ely family with which the deceased was connected by marriage, but few remain within the limits of the town whose history is so inseparably associated with their family records. The deceased was highly esteemed by all who knew her for her many social and domestic virtues and high christian character, and had been a life long member of the Congregational Church in West Springfield. The mother of ten children, she lived to follow five of them to the grave, and leaves to mourn her loss the aged partner, now in his eightieth year, two sons and three daughters. Of the surviving children the oldest is the wife of Rev. Mr. Pierce, of Brooklyn, N. Y., and the next in order Mrs. G. Morgan Smith, of South Hadley, Mass., Mr. H. G. Ely, wholesale leather merchant of New York City, Mrs. J. S. McElwain, of this town, and Homer Ely, Jr., of Balston, N. Y. The annals of these two families are exceptionally interesting from the fact that three brothers, Homer, Cotton and Frederick Ely, married three sisters of the Kent family, the double trio having all been born and reared in the same village where they passed their lives, and all living within sight of each other and of their birth places. Of the sisters only one survives, and of the brothers, two, Cotton and Homer, the oldest of the three. The latter and his companion celebrated their golden wedding six years since. Few families have enjoyed in so high degree the general respect and esteem of the community in which they moved, and to few have been recorded so many years of social and connubial felicity."

ON THE DEATH OF HOMER ELY.

"Another and excellent citizen of West Springfield has passed the boundaries of time. DEA. HOMER ELY, whose death we record, was a wealthy resident near the Holyoke line; a tanner and the son of a tanner of high reputation, an honorable, amiable, courteous, dignified man of the old school; a sagacious business man, a prudent counselor; a kind neighbor and friend; and a christian gentleman. He was one of three brothers who married three sisters, all neighbors, natives and life long residents of the same town. Dea. Ely lost his wife about a year since; he has had pulmonary difficulties for some time, but has been confined to his home and bed only for a short period.

He was a man of unblemished reputation, has been a consistent member of the First Church for about fifty years, an officer for nearly twenty years, and always a strong and firm adherent to its creed and government. He leaves five children, two sons and three daughters."

FANNY ELY, daughter of COTTON, (No. 324), was born in West Springfield, Mass., March 31, 1795, and died in Palmyra, Mo., July 18, 1868. She was married by Dr. Joseph Lathrop, of West Springfield, October 20, 1814, to ELIAS, son of ELISHA and MINDWELL (Hurlbut) WINCHELL, who was born in Windsor, Conn., December 15, 1786. He moved to West Springfield in 1807, where he engaged in mercantile pursuits; was postmaster from August, 1824, to November, 1836; in 1837 removed to Missouri, and died in Cambridge, Mass., September 7, 1856.

OBITUARY NOTICE OF MRS. FANNY ELY WINCHELL.

"At the residence of Hon. T. L. Anderson, in Palmyra, Mo., died July 18, 1868, MRS. FANNY WINCHELL, in the seventy-fourth year of her age, relict of the late COL. ELIAS WINCHELL, formerly of West Springfield, Mass.

Peacefully as the autumnal sun sinks to rest beyond the western hills, so did she surrender back to our Heavenly Father her quiet spirit; so calmly did her mortal put on immortality. Hers was a rare exemplification of the triumphant victory and serene repose of the christian—she sleeps in Jesus' arms. Her beautiful life, so full of love and meekness, so redolent of that charity that 'vaunteth not itself,' so consistent in its daily walk and conversation, so pure, simple and unaffected; so deeply sympathetic with human suffering, found fitting close in a death so quiet and serene that the point of time which marked her spirit-flight from its frail tenement of clay to its heavenly rest was scarcely discernable.

In the merciful wisdom of God she is called home to eternal joy, having fully experienced that blessed promise, 'Thou shalt come to the grave in full age, like as a shock of corn cometh in his season.' Born March 31, 1795, in West Springfield, Mass., she was united in marriage to the late Col. Elias Winchell in 1814. In 1837 husband, wife and six children left their beautiful New England home and sought a residence in far off Missouri, then upon the remote frontiers of civilization. Removing to Palmyra, Marion county, in 1853, the heads of the family there resided with their son-in-law, the Hon. Thomas L. Anderson, in whose hospitable mansion they found a cheerful welcome until they rested from their labors. Col. Winchell died in September, 1856, while visiting a son in Boston. The wife and mother, though of much more fragile constitution, survived the husband and father nearly twelve years.

In the various relationships of life she met with unwearied patience her arduous responsibilities. Long a consistent member of the Presbyterian Church, she was faithful to the end in all things. Her trust in her Saviour was implicit and unfailing. Without demonstration or display she carried the cardinal virtue into daily life. Around her all felt the genial warmth of her sympathetic nature. She entered at once into the joys and sorrows of her relations and friends, rejoicing with those who rejoiced and weeping with those that wept. Thus she lived, strewing her pathway with flowers fragrant with love. Thus she sleeps in death, honored and loved, and her memory deeply cherished by a large circle of relatives and friends."

COTTON ELY, son of Cotton, (No. 324), was born in West Springfield, Mass., June 8, 1803, where he died April 11, 1874. Besides carrying on farming at the old homestead of his father and grandfather, he was a tanner and currier by trade, and as his father had before him, so he engaged quite largely in that business, and also as a jobber in hides and leather. His life was one of active business, and so characterized by integrity in all his business relations as to secure the esteem of all who knew him. He sought no place in the arena of politics, but quietly did his part as a citizen, identifying himself formerly with the Whig, and subsequently with the Republican party. He was a man of sound judgment, conservative in his opinions, and possessed a will to carry forward whatever he deemed to be right and worthy his attention. Early in life he became a member of the Congregational Church, and there his influence for the forwarding of that and kindred interests was always acknowledged. He was active in church work, and for very many years was a teacher of the young in the Sunday school, and a liberal contributor to all enterprises looking toward the elevation and education of the rising generation. He married, September 29, 1830, MARIETTA, daughter of Ruggles and Achsah (Bliss) KENT, born in West Springfield, February 14, 1809, where she now resides.

He emigrated from Massachusetts with his father in 1799 to Deerfield, Portage county, Ohio, enduring the privations of pioneer life among the Indians and wild animals in that heavily timbered region until it became settled and blessed with the comforts of civilization, society and religion. He purchased 160 acres of land, and married, May 5, 1803, LYDIA LYMAN, who was born in Coventry, Conn., July 28, 1780. In 1852, after a residence of more than fifty years in Deerfield, they moved to Wisconsin, where the evening of their lives was spent, and where Mrs. Ely died in the town of Brandon, January 16, 1857.

He married, September 21, 1813, LAURA, daughter of JOHN and ESTHER (Wood) LADD, born August 20, 1792, and died August 22, 1856, in Euclid, Ohio. Mr. Ely moved with his family from West Springfield to Deerfield, Ohio, starting, with a team of horses and wagon the middle of July, 1819, and reaching their destination the latter part of August, after a journey of five weeks. His family then consisted of his wife and three children, the youngest a little more than a year old. For hundreds of miles they found no roads, but traveled by the aid of "blazed" trees, as they were called, through the almost pathless forest. Many miles along the shore of Lake Erie they rode along the sandy beach, and at places this was so narrow they were obliged to drive in the edge of the water if the lake was calm, or ascend the bank and press on through the forest again. From 1819 until his death he was a resident of the Connecticut Western Reserve, with the exception of a short time spent with a son in Illinois.

ASHLEY ELY, son of CAPT. DARIUS, (No. 335), was born in West Springfield, Mass., November 4, 1793, and died September 2, 1868, in Ravenna, Ohio. He married in Deerfield, Ohio, December 22, 1819, SARAH, daughter of FREDERICK and CHRISTINA (Heartzell) LAZARUS, born January 27, 1799, in Smithfield, Pa., and died September 8, 1881, in Ravenna, Ohio. Ashley Ely served as a soldier in the war of 1812, being stationed at Boston, Mass. In 1818 he came to Ohio with a team of horses, moving the family of an Ely relative to Ashtabula county, and from thence visited Deerfield, where roads were unknown in many portions of the Western Reserve, and soon after returned to Massachusetts. The following year, in the early spring, he returned to Ohio, and settled in Deerfield on a heavily timbered farm of 160 acres, where he commenced clearing a spot which he should call his home, with no means except his hands and an axe, his one and only article of property. He was a little homesick when he thought of friends 700 miles distant, and no means of travel at his command except his own feet, still he resolutely persevered, cutting down the forest by moonlight as well as by daylight, and in December of that year had a house which received his chosen wife, with whom he lived nearly forty-nine years. He disposed of his Deerfield farm, and purchased another heavily timbered piece of land in Ravenna, Ohio, containing 120 acres, which he cleared, and upon which he afterward lived and died.

Y., in 1803, then known as the Black River Country. He acquired considerable property, largely in lands and cattle. He never forgot his native town; as frequently as possible he re-visited the haunts of his boyhood, and at one time thought of returning to the dear old spot made sacred by family associations. Before the day of railroads he used to drive a pair of horses in an open sleigh in winter from his house in Lewis county, N. Y., to Springfield, Mass., freighted one way with grass seed, butter, cheese and pork, and carry back dry goods, groceries and the various articles needed in a new settlement. He was an earnest christian, and his frequent correspondence with his old friends in West Springfield, was full of large-hearted thankfulness and religious trust. He left a widow, two children and a host of friends to mourn his loss.

He "struck rock," was held to his contract, and lost every dollar. He then purchased a farm in Brighton, worked out his debt, cleared his farm, which he subsequently sold. In 1850 he went to Rochester, where he died in 1853, in comfortable circumstances, notwithstanding his repeated reverses. He was a man of remarkable energy, well educated, and an officer in the war of 1812.

D.* Graduated from Williams College in 1830, and pursued his theological course in Princeton, N. J. In 1834 he was ordained and installed pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Carmel, N. Y. In October, 1836, he accepted a call to the church in East Hampton, L. I., of which Dr. Lyman Beecher was a former pastor. Here he spent ten laborious but happy years. In 1846 his health became so impaired that he was compelled to leave the island and return to Carmel, where, released from ministerial duties, his health somewhat improved. In 1850 he removed to Brooklyn; while there he preached in the Bedford Avenue Church. In 1853, desiring the repose and quiet of a country life, he purchased a place at Roslyn, L. I. His health there in a year or two so improved that he was able to take charge of the Presbyterian Church. In 1865 he received the degree of D. D. from Columbia College, New York. During the war of the Rebellion Dr. Ely was deeply interested in the welfare of the sick and dying soldiers, and spent much of his time in the hospitals. Gen. John A. Dix said of him: "I have known Rev. Dr. Ely for twenty-five years, and I know of no one who would be likely to perform the duties of such a post more faithfully." He continued his labors of love in Roslyn until about two years previous to his death; finding his infirmities beginning to return upon him, he resigned his pastorate into the hands of a younger minister. In Roslyn, May 11, 1873, as the bells were tolling to call the worshipers to the houses of prayer, God called his aged servant to the temple above, "not made with hands, eternal in the heavens." Mrs. Ely is still living at Roslyn, L. I.

ABIGAIL ELY, daughter of ELIHU, (No. 357), was born in Westfield, Mass., January 29, 1806, and died in Ann Arbor, Mich., February 13, 1880. She married in Westfield, May 15, 1833, LESTER, son of LEVI and REBECCA LATIMER, born in Wintonbury, (now Bloomfield), Conn., April 12, 1800, and died in Ann Arbor, Mich., February 9, 1878. After her marriage, Mrs. Latimer's home was in Bloomfield, Conn., until 1864, when the family removed to Ann Arbor. She was converted early in life, and through the years of her youth and early maturity was active in the church and Sunday school work and all benevolent enterprises of that period. She was a cultivated, gentle, amiable, christian woman, and the two sons who mourn her loss, the circle of relatives and friends who survive her, and the church of which she was an honored and useful member, "arise up and call her blesssed;" "blessed are the dead who die in the Lord." Mr. Latimer was a farmer and both members of the Congregational Church.

The following paragraph is copied from the Springfield Republican:

"In the death of J. Minor Ely Sunday night, (June 14, 1885,) Westfield lost one of its oldest and best known citizens. For quite half a century he was prominently connected with the manufacturing, religious and political interests of the town. In the whip business he was among the earliest pioneers, and at his death, was probably the oldest manufacturer. Many years he filled responsible positions in town affairs, and was a member of the State Constitutional Convention of 1853.

Sprague, D. D.*, to DELIA, daughter of ROSWELL and HARRIET (Morley) KING, born in Suffield, Conn., November 7, 1816, and is now living in La Porte, Ind. Mr. Ely was a man well known to the citizens of La Porte county, Ind., having been identified with the growth and prosperity of the city from its organization as an incorporated village to the time of his death, when he was city assessor. He held a captain's commission in the war of the Rebellion, having raised a company in the 128th Indiana Regiment. His eldest son, Charles, accompanied him in Sherman's memorable campaign against Atlanta, as his age and infirmity did not permit him to do constant active service in the field, and soon after the taking of that city Mr. Ely was honorably discharged on account of physical disability.

REV. THOMAS ELY, son of ELIHU, (No. 357), was born in Westfield, Mass., December 22, 1811. He married at Little Compton, R. I., December 30, 1835, SARAH ANN, daughter of SAMUEL and SUSANNAH (Lake) SISSON, born in Newport, R. I., January 4, 1815. Mr. Ely pursued his early education in the academy in his native town. He was twenty-one when admitted on trial in the New England Conference of the M. E. Church, twenty-three when ordained deacon, and twenty-five when ordained elder. Here we have the starting points of a long career of labor and usefulness in the cause of Christ. His fields of labor embraced some of the principal towns and cities of Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut. They were such as to bring him prominently before the conference. Hence, eight years of his life have been spent in the office of presiding elder, and while in that office no man was more ready to give advice to those who sought it, and no man's advice was more to be depended on. It is not now remembered that a higher tribunal ever reversed or overruled a decision made by him, and it is believed that he presided over more than sixteen hundred quarterly meeting conferences. His residence is in East Providence, R. I.

In 1817 he went to Savannah, Ga., and after a short time removed to Monticello in the same state, returned to Savannah, and obtained a situation as clerk, which he held until the great fire in 1819. In January, 1820, he commenced business for himself, conducting a successful mercantile career until its fruits enabled him to retire from such active employment. For several years he was a director of the Marine Bank, and in 1861 became its president. It is greatly to his credit that its affairs were so well piloted through the troublous times of the war, that this bank was one of the very few in the South which redeemed in full its ante-bellum obligations. After the war he engaged in no active pursuit, but always took a deep interest in the affairs of his adopted city, watching with solicitude the progress of every enterprise looking towards her material advancement. His methodical habits, scrupulous regard for his obligations and promptitude in mercantile transactions, secured for him early in life an enviable reputation for commercial integrity which was never dimmed by any act of his life.

LINES INSCRIBED TO MR. AND MRS. JAMES P. ELY.

Fiftieth Anniversary.

"Should auld acquaintance be forgot,
And never brought to mind;
Should auld acquaintance be forgot,
And days of auld lang syne."
Kind are the friends that gather here,
Blessings attend the meeting;
As hand clasps hand with sweet accord,
And joyous be the greeting.

The dearest wishes of the heart
We bring here as a token;
To those whose links of fifty years
This day remain unbroken,
Yes, fifty years of wedded life,
Wedded life so golden;
Oh! may they feel that in our hearts
Their memory is holden.

Along the track of many years
Their footsteps have been 'tended
By an unerring hand, who gives
Our joys with sorrows blended.
Beloved ones have gone before,
They miss them from their side,
They're waiting on the shining shore,
Beyond the swelling tide.

And as dear friends we celebrate
Their golden bridal day;
We'll give a tear for lost ones dear,
A prayer for those who stay;
God's blessings arch their pathway o'er,
And guide their weary feet,
That when their pilgrimage shall end
They'll walk the golden street.

November 29, 1877.

ELISHA DICKINSON ELY, son of ELISHA, (No. 403), was born in Hadley, Mass., October 18, 1813, died in Philadelphia, Pa., January 18, 1849, and was buried in Rochester, N. Y. At the time of his death he was engaged in milling in Rochester, being proprietor of the "Ely Mills," which had been built and owned by his uncle, Hervey Ely. The following sketch is taken from one of the Rochester papers:

"The painful intelligence of the death in Philadelphia, of one of our worthiest citizens, Mr. Elisha D. Ely, was received here yesterday morning. He had been absent from home but about two weeks, and while engaged in the business which called him to Philadelphia was attacked with pleurisy and inflammation of the lungs with which he suffered eight days, and died on Thursday evening. His wife and brother were at his bedside three days previous to his death, and soothed his departure from life and kindred which was in all respects that of an upright christian man. Mr. E. had resided among us since early boyhood and enjoyed in a high degree the respect and confidence of his fellow-citizens. His death was a shock which few were prepared to receive and the announcement occasioned the most sincere regret among all who had the pleasure of his acquaintance. He was connected with a family which came to Rochester at an early day, the members of which have taken a large share in its commercial operations and benevolent enterprises. Within a short period, several of its prominent male members have been removed by death; and this new inroad will leave a gap in our social and commercial circles which will be sensibly appreciated by all."

He married in Allegan, Mich., June 27, 1838, LYDIA BAXTER, daughter of JOHN and CYNTHIA (Ashley) WEARE, born in Barton, Vt., January 22, 1822. Her residence is in Boston, Mass.

Graduated at the College of Physicians and Surgeons, in New York City, in March, 1848. Entered the U. S. service in August, 1862, being commissioned surgeon of the Twenty-fourth Regiment Iowa Volunteer Infantry, and soon after was in active service as medical director of the divisions of Generals C. B. Fisk and A. P. Hovey of the Nineteenth army corps. In these positions he won to himself enviable professional credit and the warm ragard both of his superiors and those under his charge. He resigned on account of impaired health, in June, 1863. In 1842 he united with the Presbyterian Church, and since 1865, has been ruling elder of the First Presbyterian Church in Cedar Rapids, Iowa. He married in Dubuque, Iowa, January 17, 1853, MARY ANN, widow of his brother, Alexander L. Ely, daughter of JOHN and CYNTHIA (Ashley) WEARE. See that record.

GEORGE HERVEY ELY, son of ELISHA, (No. 403), was born in Rochester, N. Y., October 18, 1825. His preparation for college was under the direction of Prof. Chester Dewey, of the Rochester High School. He graduated at Williams College, in 1848, and three years later returned and delivered the master's oration, receiving the degree of Master of Arts. On graduating and leaving college he went to Cedar Rapids, Iowa, to take charge of the business and estate of his brother Alexander, who had just died, leaving a large flouring mill and extensive landed property. Six months later he was joined by his brother John, who has resided there ever since. After two years he returned to Rochester, where his brother Samuel had milling interests, and engaged in the same, purchasing the Granite Mills with ten run of stone. The opening up and development of the Lake Superior iron ore trade, in which he had been largely interested with his brothers Heman and Samuel, resulted in his removal to Cleveland, Ohio, in June, 1863, where he formed a partnership with H. B. TUTTLE for the sale of iron ore and pig iron. From that time Mr. Ely has been prominent in the iron ore trade of Cleveland, and in the development of the immense mining interests of the Lake Superior region. In politics a Republican, he has ever been zealous in promoting the interests and principles of his party. He was elected Senator in the State Legislature from Cuyahoga county in 1883, and was recognized as one of the most prominent and influential members of that body. For nearly twenty years Mr. Ely has been an elder and trustee of the First Presbyterian Church in Cleveland, and is officially connected with several benevolent and educational institutions of the city. He married in Penn Yan, N. Y., April 28, 1852, HANNAH HERRICK, daughter of JUDGE HENRY WELLES, of Penn Yan, N. Y., born March 30, 1830, and died April 23, 1854, in Penn Yan. He married in Philadelphia, Pa., June 4, 1856, AMELIA, daughter of JOSEPH and CATHARINE (Geiger) RIPKA, born May 16, 1834, in Philadelphia.

SAMUEL PARTRIDGE ELY, son of ELISHA, (No. 403), was born in Rochester, N. Y., October 14, 1827, and graduated with honor at Williams College in 1847, where he gave a master's oration, and took a master's degree in 1850. Soon after leaving college he engaged in the milling business in Rochester, becoming proprietor of the largest flouring mills in that city. In 1855, with his brothers Heman and George, he became interested in the construction of the pioneer line of railroad from the iron mines of Marquette county, Michigan, to Marquette, on Lake Superior, and in the development of those mines. In 1857 he took up his residence in Marquette, and was largely engaged in iron mining and railroad management until 1874, during which time he constantly served the community in which he lived in various functions of public trust and duty. He opened the well known Lake Superior, Champion, and Republic iron mines. In 1874 he went with his wife to Europe for a time, and after his return engaged in mining in Utah and Arizona for several years, although retaining a residence in Marquette. In 1883 he became associated with the development of the Vermilion district iron mines in Minnesota, and the construction of the railroad from Tower, on Lake Vermilion, to Two Harbors, on Lake Superior, (about 68 miles), by which those mines became accessible. This railroad was completed in 1884, and the first shipments of ore were made from this new district in August of that year. Mr. Ely then removed to Cleveland, Ohio, and engaged with his brother George in the business of the Minnesota Iron Company at that point. He married in Cambridge, Mass., August 4, 1853, HARRIET HOWARD, daughter of WILLIAM H. and HARRIET H. (Fay) GREENOUGH, born December 28, 1832, in New York City. She died in Paris, France, in 1875, on the anniversary of her wedding day. Mrs. Ely was a woman of many accomplishments and great attractiveness, who did her duty well in the young community in which her lot was cast. Her remains were brought back from France and repose in Marquette.

Charles Ely

CHARLES ELY, son of JUSTIN, (No. 407), was born in West Springfield, Mass., December 21, 1805, and died in New York City, February 10, 1883. In early life he was a merchant in West Springfield as were his father and grandfather before him. In 1836 he became a partner in the wholesale dry goods firm of Cutter, Bulkley, Hunt & Co., in New York City, removing there with his family in the fall of that year, and continued in that business until the dissolution of the firm of Merritt, Ely & Co., about 1848. Previous to this he became largely interested in the Brazilian trade in which he was quite successful, also in several manufacturing establishments, and to these he then devoted his time and attention. He was also largely interested in real estate in the vicinity of New York, in the purchase and development of which, as well as in some of his manufacturing interests, he became deeply involved, and failing to realize as he had hoped from sales of real estate and other sources, his former accumulations were almost wholly swept away. In his more prosperous days he was actively connected with several benevolent institutions in New York, to the support of which and to the building and support of an Episcopal Church in his native town, he contributed quite liberally. Short extracts from the proceedings of the trustees and managers of some of these, after his death, will show the estimate of his character by those intimately associated with him. The trustees of the House of Mercy say: "All that the House of Mercy owes under God to Mr. Ely can never be told. He was one of the earliest friends of the institution, and in the first days of its existence it was mainly through his earnest efforts and generous gifts that it was fostered into life and took its place among the charities of the church. * * * He leaves behind him the record of a life spent in doing good to his fellow men." The Board of Managers of the Protestant Episcopal Church Missionary Society for Seamen, in the city of New York, at a meeting, February 13, 1883, say: "That in the death of Mr. Ely, late a vice-president of this board, we sorrow for our separation for a time from an associate and friend whose connection with the board commenced with its organization in 1844; one of its most efficient members; beneficient, kind and christian at all times and under all circumstances, whose interest in the Mission to Seamen knew no ebb. As the faithful Sunday school teacher, the pastors' counselor, the efficient director, the friend of the poor, the strong helper in all mission work, and the active business man, all dignified by the meek and lowly spirit of a child of the kingdom of Christ, his was a superior example of christian manhood." The trustees of the Five Points House of Industry at a meeting, February 14, 1883, say: "Charles Ely, whose death at the ripe age of seventy-seven, has occurred since our last meeting, was one of the original incorporators of this institution in 1854, and his name stands at the head of the list of trustees first chosen. During twenty-eight years, as a member of the board, he has continuously and assiduously devoted himself to furthering the interests of this institution and advising as to its management. He has given liberally of his time, his means and his influence to secure the children of this part of the city from vice and ignorance and to start them in the path of virtue, and to secure from the community a just recognition of their claim for aid and protection. His large-hearted benevolence, his unfailing devotion to the best interests of his fellow men, his true christian piety have endeared him to us all, and we mourn with sincere regret his loss which will be so deeply felt by the institution with which he has been so long and so closely connected."

He married in West Springfield, Mass., January 1, 1829, HARRIET, daughter of JAMES and RUTH (Mather) KENT, born April —, 1806, and died November 28, 1838. He married in Portsmouth, N. H., June 23, 1840, ELIZA ADAMS, daughter of GENL. TIMOTHY and ELIZA (Adams) UPHAM, of Portsmouth, N. H., born May 1, 1813, and died in New York City, May 11, 1885.

HEMAN ELY, son of HEMAN, (No. 408), was born in Elyria, Ohio, October 30, 1820, where he now resides, occupying the house in which he was born. Losing his mother in 1827, he was confided to the care of Rev. Emerson Davis, D. D., and his wife, of Westfield, Mass., where Dr. Davis was so long a successful teacher. Later he attended the Elyria High School, and Mr. Simeon Hart's school in Farmington, Conn. He then returned to Elyria, and in his father's office received a business training, particularly in the care and conveyancing of real estate, and soon assumed the care of all his father's business. He assisted in the organization of the first bank in Elyria, was chosen a director at the first election in 1847, and from that time, through its changes to the First National Bank in 1864, and in 1883 to the National Bank of Elyria, has been connected with the institution as director, vice president, and as president of the last organization. In 1852, with Judge Ebenezer Lane and others, he secured the building of that section of the present Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railway, then known as the "Junction Railroad," from Cleveland to Toledo. From 1870 to 1873 he was a member of the State Legislature, particularly interesting himself in insurance legislation, and in the formation of the State Insur-

M., in Elyria, for thirteen years, from 1858 to 1871, of which his father was the first W. Master; was Grand Commander of the Grand Commandery of Knights Templars of Ohio for seven years, from 1864 to 1871; is an active member of the Supreme Council of the Ancient Accepted Scottish Rite, of Free Masonry for the Northern Jurisdiction of the United States, having been Treasurer of that body since May, 1867, which office he now holds. His connection with the First Congregational Church in Elyria was formed in 1838, and he has for many years been one of its officers. For ten years he served as Superintendent of the Sabbath school. Since 1879 he has been more or less occupied in compiling the records of the Ely family. He married in Elyria, September 1, 1841, MARY HARRIS, daughter of REV. JOHN and ABIGAIL (Harris) MONTIETH, born in Clinton, Oneida county, N. Y., November 12, 1824, and died in Elyria, March 1, 1849. CHARLES ARTHUR ELY, son of HEMAN, (No. 408), was born in Elyria, Ohio, May 2, 1829, died in Cincinnati, Ohio, September 30, 1864, and was buried at Elyria. His early education was received in Elyria, at the High School, in charge of competent instructors, Mr. C. B. D. Mills, now of Syracuse, doing much to train and stimulate his mind. He spent three winters at the Scientific School in Cambridge, Mass., and while there availed himself of such opportunities as offered to educate his taste in music and drawing. In 1852 he visited South America as agent for the Goodyear Rubber Company, buying caoutchouc from the natives. His letters show him to have been a close and discriminating observer of nature, as revealed in this tropical country. In 1854, immediately after his marriage, he went to Europe, and in the congenial companionship of his accomplished wife, spent several months in travel, returning to Elyria in December of that year. He remained in Elyria, interesting himself in the affairs of the town, and in establishing for himself a pleasant home, and stocking his large farm with the best cattle, hoping to become a successful scientific farmer. His health, however, which had never been very strong, was shattered by an accident, while driving, and his physicians advised a sea voyage. On February 10, 1858, he with his wife sailed for China. After a pleasant visit among the Celestials, receiving much kindness from English and American residents of Hong Kong, they sailed for San Francisco. Mr. Ely spent two years in California, traveling the whole length of the Pacific coast, remaining in San Francisco some months after the return of Mrs. Ely to the east; during a part of the time acting as temporary instructor in the College of California, in which he was much interested. In May, 1860, he united with the First Congregational Church in Oakland, Cal. Finding his health was not regained by this long exile, he was glad to join his wife and child in Elyria. The life of usefulness he so much desired was not to be his. His health continued to decline till his death, September 30, 1864. He was deeply interested in the advancement of his native town, particularly in the education of the young. By his will he made provision for the organization and maintenance of a public library, which is heartily appreciated by the citizens of Elyria, and is a most fitting memorial of its founder. He married, June 19, 1854, in Cleveland, Ohio, LOUISE CAROLINE, daughter of JOHN ALFRED and FRANCES A. (Hitchcock) FOOTE, born in Cheshire, Conn., October 1, 1831, and died in Elyria, Ohio, August 15, 1881.

PROF. JOHN STRONG NEWBERRY, son of HENRY, (No. 416), was born in Windsor, Conn., December 22, 1822. He graduated at Western Reserve College in 1846, and from the Cleveland Medical College in 1848. The years 1849 and 1850 he spent in study and travel in Europe, and in 1851 began the practice of medicine in Cleveland where he was eminently successful. In May, 1855, he was appointed by the U. S. War Department surgeon and geologist to an expedition for the exploration of Northern California and Oregon, in which the next six years of his life were spent. At the outbreak of the Rebellion in 1861, the United States Sanitary Commission was organized, of which he was a member and secretary of the western department. A full account of the labors and results of the commission is found in Prof. Newberry's book, "The Sanitary Commission in the Valley of the Mississippi." Toward the close of his labors with the sanitary commission he received an appointment as Professor of Geology in the School of Mines of Columbia College, New York City, and entered upon the duties of that position in 1866, retaining it to the present time. In recognition of his services in this connection, the trustees, in 1878, conferred on him an additional professorship in the same subject in Columbia College proper. The remarkable palæontological collection of the college is almost entirely his work. In 1869 he was appointed by Governor R. B. Hayes, as chief of the Ohio Geological Survey. His services have given to the State a geological report which compares favorably with that of any other State in the Union. He has been honored with the membership of most of the learned societies of this country and of many in Europe; was one of the original corporators of the National Academy of Science; has been president of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, and is now president of the New York Academy of Science, and of the Torrey Botanical Club of that city. "We regret to record the death of Mr. William B. Ely, of this town, at the advanced age of 76 years. Mr. Ely was well and favorably known in this community as an elder in the Sandemanian Church. With singular modesty and sterling honesty he has for a long series of years 'pursued the even tenor of his way,' dispensing the alms of that small but charitable band of disciples. He has been a welcome visitor to the poor and needy and many hearts have blessed God for the aid to eke out their scanty means and make themselves comfortable. To the denomination to which he ministered he will be a great loss and our whole community will miss his wholesome and perfect example. 'How blest the righteous when they die.'"

From the Hartford Courant:

"THE LATE MRS. GRIDLEY."

"In your paper of a few weeks since, the death of Mrs. Mary E. Gridley was announced. As one of her early friends and owning the same birth-place with herself, I cannot forbear sending this brief tribute to her memory. I can say with truth that I never knew as unselfish a character, or one whose piety shone with such unsullied light through life, while her humility was touching. She was nothing herself, but her Saviour, who was with her in her many trials and in her daily walk was all in all. Though she was called to part with an only child, a lovely daughter, and thus had no young voices to rise up and call her blessed, yet the tribute came from every heart in the isolated village over which her husband was so long pastor until the day of her death.

"As some fair violet, lovliest of the glade,
Sheds its mild fragrance o'er the lonely shade,
So woman, born to dignify retreat,
Unknown to 'flourish and unseen be great.' M. E. C."

LUCINDA NEWELL ELY, daughter of Rev. Alfred, (No. 477), was born in Monson, Mass., October 8, 1814, and died in South Norwalk, Conn., March 23, 1864. She was the seventh in a direct line from Elder William Brewster, her grandmother, Drusilla Brewster, being the daughter of William, of Windham, Conn., who was the son of Benjamin, of Preston, Conn., who was the son of William, of Norwich, who was the son Jonathan, of New London, the eldest son of Elder William, of the Mayflower, who has been well-styled "the father of the faithful." She was also on her father's side connected with the celebrated Jonathan Edwards. Many of the best traits of both the Edwards and Brewsters were happily blended in Lucinda. From the Brewsters she inherited great energy and force of character, which, combined with the sweetness of her disposition, attracted and held the affection of both old and young, while the religious nature of both lines of ancestry blended most harmoniously in her daily walk and conversation. She was fond of the Bible above all other books, and committed to memory many chapters, while her hands were engaged in some useful labor. Nearly the whole book of Psalms was stored away in her mind, and the Proverbs also were very dear to her. For several years she bore with christian patience and fortitude the suffering incident upon a severe disease, and vividly displayed the power of the love of God to make a dying bed feel as soft as downy pillows are. So that the memory of her life and character remains as a precious legacy to those who survive her.

She married in Monson, May 7, 1835, REV. DAVID ROGERS AUSTIN, who was born in Bridgeport, Conn., February 28, 1807, and died in South Norwalk, Conn., November 8, 1879. He graduated from Union College in 1829; studied theology in New Haven; taught school for a time in Hadley, Mass.; was pastor in Ludlow and principal of Monson Academy until 1837. The same year was settled in Sturbridge, Mass., where he remained fourteen years. In 1851 he became pastor of the church in South Norwalk, Conn., resigning in 1865. His three pastorates covering a period of thirty years. As health permitted he supplied vacant pulpits. He suffered from asthma for thirty years, and spent several winters in the South Atlantic States, one in Southern California, and one in Spain and Italy on account of his health.

A member of the Class of '76, Amherst College, died at his home in Wilbraham of typhoid fever. From the many appreciative notices written by classmates and friends, we select a few passages from a letter written by Prof. Tyler to his pastor: "Few in all the college were so beloved as young Ely. His sympathetic nature, his warm heart, his rare frankness, openness and ingenuousness, his great simplicity, and sincerity, his generosity and true nobility of character made him a universal favorite. He was eminently conscientious and faithful in the performance of every duty. Duty was a sacred thing with him, and he brought his studies, his college exercises and his ordinary occupations within that hallowed sphere. He was a consistent, exemplary, earnest christian.

EDMUND FRANKLIN ELY, son of JUDAH, (No. 561), was born in Wilbraham, Mass., August 3, 1809, and died in Santa Rosa, Cal., August 29, 1883. He married at La Pointe Mission, Lake Superior, August 30, 1835, CATHARINE, daughter of JOSEPH and JOSETTE (Grant) GOULAIS, born in Canada, (en route) November 25, 1817, who died in San Francisco, Cal., April 15, 1881.

Mr. Ely made profession of religion in Rome, N. Y., in 1827, having been converted under the preaching of Rev. Charles G. Finney. In 1828 he commenced study with a view to the Gospel ministry. Being dependent upon his own efforts for the means necessary to defray his expenses, he devoted part of his time to teaching, and in 1831 taught music and was leader of the choir in the Fourth Presbyterian Church in Albany; at the same time he was one of a private class of students taught by the pastor, Rev. Edward N. Kirk. In 1832 the American Board of Foreign Missions established mission stations at Lake Superior, and being in want of teachers, Mr. Ely, whose health at that time was poor, accepted an invitation to go to that country as an assistant teacher. He was subsequently appointed teacher and catechist, expecting to return in two years and resume his studies, but the way never opened for his return. He left Albany July 5, 1833. On reaching Mackinaw he found that the missionaries who had preceded him had departed with a company of Indian traders. He was forwarded by Henry M. Schoolcraft, Indian agent, and in three days overtook the boats on Lake Superior. At that time there were no vessels on that lake. Mr. Ely was assigned to the branch of the mission among the Ojibways of the upper Mississippi, under the direction of Rev. William D. Boutwell, and proceeded to Sandy Lake, where after a short time he was left by Mr. Boutwell with the joint duties of missionary and teacher resting upon him. In the summer of 1834 the school was removed from Sandy Lake to Fond du Lac, a village on the St. Louis river at the head of navigation, where a school house had been built by Mr. Ely. In 1835 a reinforcement of teachers were sent by the mission board. One of them, Miss Catharine Goulais, soon became the wife of Mr. Ely. Here they labored until May, 1839, when they removed to Pokegama, a mission station, near a small lake of the same name. In May, 1840, occurred the battle of Pokegama, when the mission was surrounded and attacked by more than a hundred Sioux warriors. The attack commenced at 8 o'clock on Monday morning. A half hour later the children would have gathered at the school house, when a fearful scene might have been enacted. The village became alarmed and the Indians of the mission sought safety in the fortifications of their log houses. Though no demonstrations were made against the missionaries, two scholars, girls, ten and twelve years of age, were killed. From this time until 1849 the work was carried on under great disadvantages, when for the better education of their children, Mr. and Mrs. Ely removed to St. Paul.

In a letter dated July 1, 1881, Mr. Ely says: "When I first entered the mission work at Lake Superior, that portion of the country was included in the territory of Michigan. After Michigan was admitted as a State, the territory of Wisconsin was organized, Minnesota at that time being Indian territory. The first party of white men I saw, were lumbermen engaged in their business on the waters of the St. Croix in the year 1838, several years before there was any settlement, where the City of St. Paul now stands. In 1840, I was on the ground now occupied by the cities of St. Paul and Minneapolis. St. Paul was then known as 'Pigs Eye,' with less than a dozen inhabitants. That region of country was fighting ground between the Sioux and the Chippewas, and I remember two battles fought between the two tribes, while we were living in Pokegama. The country between that place and Lake Superior was a dense forest, and communication was had by traveling in bark canoes on the rapid rivers, or on foot, following the Indian trails through the woods, by which means we had communication with the missions on Lake Superior. Our dry goods came by way of the lakes, and our groceries came up the Mississippi river, excepting sugar, which was made from the maple trees, and we raised our wheat and vegetables. The wheat was ground into flour by hand mills. In 1849 the territory of Minnesota was organized, with St. Paul as the capital. The Indian titles to lands about the head of Lake Superior were not extinguished till 1854. At this time we had left the mission and removed to St. Paul, but being thoroughly conversant with the country, I went to Lake Superior, took up lands where the town of Superior was located, and assisted in surveying and laying out the town. In 1855 the Indian title was extinguished on the Minnesota side of the entrance, and I went over there and laid out the town of Oneota as a commercial site, built a steam mill and docks, and held the position of postmaster for six years, also that of notary public under the governor of the territory. The real estate reverses in 1857 rendered our property valueless, and in 1862 we returned to St. Paul. In November of that year I was appointed actuary of Oakland Cemetery, which position I held until 1870, when I returned to Oneota. Resolved, that while we would bow in submission to the divine will, we mourn the loss of a dearly beloved school-mate, who, though one of the youngest of our number, had secured the esteem of us all by his amiable disposition, his manly deportment, his sincere, generous character, and his faithful attention to all his duties.

Resolved, that we deeply sympathize with the bereaved father and friends in this most grievous affliction.

Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the Springfield Republican and Palmer Journal for publication.

The following obituary is taken from The Holyoke News of Saturday, July 6, 1878:

"DEATH OF MRS. TERRY."

"The death of Mrs. Terry, which we announce in another column, will bring sadness to many beside those of the family circle which she graced with her christian virtues, and adorned with her quiet, unaffected and ladylike demeanor. Born and reared within the city limits many will remember the delicate and winsome child, others will recall the shy and modest maiden, and many more remember her only as the faithful wife and devoted mother, whose ambition centered in woman's highest and holiest mission, to make her home attractive and cheerful, with happy and loving hearts around her. Never of robust health, and an invalid for several years, she bore her afflictions without repining, and never shadowed the household with complaints or forebodings. Her courage, fortitude and hopefulness, often sustained her, even when her strength gave out, and when she was finally prostrated ten days since by over exertion in her domestic affairs, during the summer heats, and the inevitable became apparent, she awaited the end with that serene resignation and confiding trust in the future, which an abiding christian faith, and a blameless life alone can give. Beside her husband, father and mother, Mrs. Terry leaves two children, aged twelve and six years respectively. One little daughter rests beside her in 'Forrestdale.'

"The blessings of her quiet life,
Fell on us like the dew,
And good thoughts, where her footsteps pressed,
Like fairy blossoms grew."

HARRIET CAMPBELL, daughter of SARAH ELY, (No. 873), was born in Ravenna, Ohio, December 16, 1806; in 1882 was living in Coopersville, Mich. She married in Ravenna, July 31, 1831, ASAHEL, son of ASAHEL and —— (Granger) KENT, born in Massachusetts, December 30, 1797, and died in Caledonia, Mich., September 5, 1840. She married, March 30, 1842, PETER D. McNAUGHTON, son of DUNCAN and ELIZABETH (McNab) McNAUGHTON, born in Breadelbane, Perthshire, Scotland, November 17, 1809; died in Middleville, Berry county, Mich., March 22, 1882; buried in Coopersville, Mich. As furnishing a contrast with life at the present time, this sketch of Mrs. Campbell's life, written by her when seventy-five years of age, is subjoined:

"Sarah Ely, my mother, married John Campbell, Nov. 7, 1800, and I, their fourth child, was born Dec. 16, 1806. I was very small and unable to attend school at a distance of two miles, so my grandmother, at an advanced age, taught me at home. The next year, I being six years old, went to the school referred to above, with three others, four of us riding one horse. Afterwards my parents moved to the little town named Campbellsport. The house we built was exactly on the corners of four towns. At eleven years of age I was, by the marriage of my sister, compelled to assist in the duties of home, which were many in a hotel. At thirteen my spare time was spent in carding and spinning wool and tow. When I was twenty years of age I lost my father, and at twenty-five I married Asahel Kent and moved some miles distant to Geauga county, Ohio, where we were engaged in farming for one and a half years. We then moved to Aurora and took a dairy, with forty cows. One girl and myself took the entire charge of the milk, besides milking ten cows each. After one year we bought a small farm in Edinburgh, then after three years we started for Michigan, with our possessions drawn by one yoke of oxen, one horse and a a cow tied behind. The cow's milk night and morning paid a part of our lodgings. We accomplished our journey between the thirty-first day of December and the twenty-fifth day of January. My third child was born to me on the last day of February following. We remained in Blissfield on a farm one year, and while there I buried my two younger children. Our house was in sight of the railroad, when the cars were drawn by horses from Toledo to Adrian. We then moved to Middleville, Barry county, the farm on which we located being seventeen miles one way and two and a half the other from neighbors. The winter was coming on, and having no supplies, I worked in a family for my own and my child's board, and Mr. Kent returned forty miles to work upon a prairie farm, from whence all provisions came. In the spring we went to housekeeping in a house nine by twelve feet, which contained a bedstead which had upon it three beds in the daytime, two of them on the floor at night, besides the other necessary furniture and a fire-place in the corner and a hole in the roof for the smoke. Soon, however, we built an addition to our house. Once, while Mr. Kent was gone, two Indians came and staid all night. I thought I had company. When we bought this place it had a mortgage upon it, and Mr. Kent bound the man we bought of to cancel the debt, we furnishing the means to do so, but he did not, and as he could not be found, the mortgagee came and claimed the land and we were compelled to move to the small town of Yankee Springs, where we remained but a few months. My husband's health was very poor, and I had the care of everything. We then moved to Caledonia, in Kent county, built a small log house upon a farm of eighty acres, for which we went in debt. Mr. Kent was still sick, and all I could do to obtain the necessities of life, was to entertain travelers, which were many, it being on the main road from Kalamazoo to Grand Rapids. In the following December Mr. Kent died, and I continued in the same business and was successful, for, in one year and a half, I had paid one-half the debt on the farm, besides supporting myself and daughter. At that time I married Peter D. McNaughton, a Scotchman, and we continued to keep a public house. Though we endured the hardships of pioneer life, we in twenty years accumulated considerable property, and being tired of public life we moved to a farm in Ottawa county, where we lived with our three children. Almena Kent having previously married A. D. Thomas and resided in Browne, Kent county. Nothing of importance has happened since but the marriage of my children; all are settled near me. My youngest son having bought the farm, we moved to Coopersville, ten miles distant, that we might have the benefit of church privileges. My seventy-fifth birthday has just passed, and a large company of friends gathered to surprise me, and left many presents as tokens of remembrance."

MEMORIAL

On the death of S. F. C. [illegible], wife of Memphis, Tenn., Mission.

Sister, thy toil is o'er,
Thy works shall follow thee;
The Spirit speaks the living word,
"Blest they who die in Christ the Lord,"
Theirs immortality!
Oh, morn arise,
When from the skies
The Judge shall come, and give his saints the prize.

Sister, the word of life,
That gave thee peace with God,
Was dealt by thee to souls in need,
Who feasted on the heavenly bread,
And learned of Jesus' blood.
O, faithful band,
Soon ye shall stand,
Approved and welcomed to the King's right hand.

Sister, thy lonely grave,
Scorned by the proud of earth,
Is watched in that sad southern land,
By an unseen angelic band,
Till Jesus calls the forth.
Sleep, sister, sleep,
In hope we weep,
And wait till the good Shepherd calls his sheep.

The following verses were written descriptive of the sentiment expressed by DONNA MARIA (Chase) BENNETT, wife of CAPTAIN JAMES E. BENNETT, to her husband just before her happy departure on the morning of November 3, 1853, at Honolulu, Oahu, Sandwich Islands:

1.

In those mansions high and holy
Ever bright and ever fair,
In the realms of peace and glory
My beloved, meet me there!
I must leave thee—swiftly vanish
All the joys that earth can give,
Yet I have the blest assurance,
Jesus died that I might live.

2.

Jesus calls my ransomed spirit,
Now I feel his power to save,
Sin and death have lost their terrors,
All is bright beyond the grave.
Yet my longing soul would linger,
Fondly near the pillow, where
Sweetly these our loved ones slumber,
Conscious not of earthly care.

3.

See, how sound, how sweet their slumber!
Full of innocence and love,
Whilst their happy little faces
Speak of fairer worlds above;
But with them I cannot tarry,
Life, how deep, how strange thou art!
Who can know a mother's sorrow?
Who can sound a mother's heart?

4.

Train them up for God and heaven
When my eyes have closed in death;
Tell them that a mother's prayer
Blest them with her dying breath.
May the love of Jesus ever
Find a place within their heart,
And may from their pathway never
Peace and happiness depart.

5.

Now, farewell! Oh let no sorrow
Rest and linger on thy brow,
Jesus calls me home to glory,
All is calm and peaceful now,
But in mansions high and holy,
Ever bright and ever fair,
In the realms of peace and glory,
My beloved, meet me there.

JUDSON LAFAYETTE POWERS, son of CAROLINE AUSTIN, (No. 1201), was born in Sherburn, N. Y., August 6, 1840. He gives the following statement:

"I received a very common-school education. At the age of 13 years entered the Madison County, N. Y., Journal office, to learn the art of printing where I passed the various grades from "devil" to local editor, until the war broke out. On the first call for "300,000 more," I enlisted in Company A, 157th N. Y. State Volunteers, for three years; was promoted through the various grades of non-commissioned officers to Lieutenant, within 8 months, was taken prisoner July 1 at Gettysburg, and confined in Libby, Andersonville, and all the various prison-pens of the South; was under fire at Charleston for six weeks. Escaped through tunnel from Libby Prison, was recaptured, escaped from Macon, Ga., and captured when within hearing of our guns, by blood-hounds,—was in prison at Charlotte and was hurried out as Sherman passed on his "March to the Sea." Was one of the officers in Libby Prison who was called upon to draw lots to see who should be hung in retaliation for two rebel spies who were shot by order of Lincoln. After nearly 22 months of prison life I was parolled and sent down the James river from Richmond the day before it was evacuated by Lee, and after several months managed to get home alive, having lost 100 pounds of flesh, health, memory, and as I then thought, all that made life desirable,—but a remarkable constitution and good care have carried me along above the earth."
